C. F. BULMER,
Clerk of the Crown in Chancery.

3 O'CLOCK P.M.

And the House having met,

His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor, having entered the House, took his seat on the Throne.

Mr. Goldie, the Provincial Secretary, then said,

I am commanded by His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor to state that he does not see fit to declare the causes of the summoning of the present Legislature of this Province until a Speaker of this House shall have been chosen according to law; but to-day, at a subsequent hour, His Honour will declare the causes of the calling of this Legislature.

His Honour was then pleased to retire.

And the Clerk having called for nominations for the office of Speaker, the Premier, Mr. Ferguson, addressing himself to the Clerk, proposed to the House for their Speaker, William David Black, Esquire, Member for the Riding of Addington, which motion was seconded by Mr. Henry, and it was Resolved, That William David Black, Esquire, do take the Chair of this House as Speaker.

The Clerk having declared the Honourable William David Black duly elected, he was conducted by the Premier and Mr. Henry to the Chair, where standing on the upper step, he returned his humble acknowledgments to the House for the great honour they had been pleased to confer upon him by choosing him to be their Speaker.

And thereupon he sat down in the Chair, and the Mace was laid upon the Table.

3.15 O'CLOCK P.M.

His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor then re-entered the House and took his seat on the Throne.

Mr. Speaker then addressed His Honour to the following effect:—

May It Please Your Honour:—

The Legislative Assembly have elected me as their Speaker, though I am but little able to fulfil the important duties thus assigned to me.

If, in the performance of those duties, I should at any time fall into error, I pray that the fault may be imputed to me and not to the Assembly whose Servant I am, and who, through me, the better to enable them to discharge their duty to their King and country, hereby claim all their undoubted rights and privileges, especially that they may have freedom of speech in their debates, access to your person at all seasonable times, and that their proceedings may receive from you the most favourable consideration.

The Provincial Secretary then said:—

Mr. Speaker,

I am commanded by His Honour, the Lieutenant-Governor, to declare to you that he freely confides in the duty and attachment of the Assembly to His Majesty's person and Government, and not doubting that the proceedings will be conducted with wisdom, temper and prudence, he grants, and upon all occasions will recognize and allow, the constitutional privileges.

I am commanded also to assure you that the Assembly shall have ready access to His Honour upon all suitable occasions, and that their proceedings, as well as your words and actions, will constantly receive from him the most favourable construction.

His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor was then pleased to open the Session with the following gracious Speech:—

Mr. Speaker and Gentlemen of the Legislative Assembly:

It is my privilege to welcome you to the discharge of your legislative duties at the First Session of the Seventeenth Legislature of this Province.

Our earnest thanks are due to Almighty God for the harvest of the past year, and for the many other blessings that have been vouchsafed to us as a people.

On this my first opportunity of addressing you in my official capacity as Lieutenant-Governor, I desire to extend to you my most cordial greetings. I desire also to express my hearty concurrence in the impressive tribute of public respect and appreciation tendered to my predecessor, Colonel Henry Cockshutt, by the people of this Province.

The departure from Canada of Lord Byng of Vimy on the completion of his term as Governor-General, elicited widespread expressions of good-will toward that distinguished representative of His Majesty the King. The cordial welcome extended to Viscount Willingdon as Governor-General of Canada is a recognition of the outstanding services he has rendered to the Empire, and of the great value our people place on the high office he has been called upon to fill in this country.

As Canadians, we look forward with keen interest to the approaching commemoration of the Diamond Jubilee of Confederation during the present year. The significance of the event is enhanced by the announcement that, circumstances permitting, His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales will visit Canada on that occasion. I trust that the Jubilee Celebration, in recalling many memorable events in our history, will tend to cement the bonds which unite all the Provinces of this great Dominion.

In June last a conference of representatives of the Provinces was held in Ottawa, when a satisfactory exchange of views took place and agreement was reached on a number of subjects as to which common action is desirable. One of the matters on which the Provinces are of one mind is that gatherings of this nature at regular intervals will serve to promote good understanding and useful co-operation.

The monument to Sir James Pliny Whitney was completed in the early part of the winter, and it is hoped that the ceremony of unveiling can be arranged for Empire Day. The occasion will afford an opportunity for a fitting public recognition of the outstanding work and character of that distinguished Prime Minister of Ontario.

Notwithstanding the unusual weather conditions, returns from agriculture last year closely approximated the average yield, thus affording evidence of the stability of this great and varied industry. The inauguration of the grading of cream has brought about a gratifying improvement in the quality of the commercial make of butter. Another satisfactory feature is the advance in the standing of the Province in competitive tests. Plans for placing British boys on Ontario farms were put into effect during the year with results that appear to warrant a material expansion of the project in the near future.

In developing the educational system, my Government is pursuing a policy of providing increased facilities for advanced courses at local centres, the aim being to place the benefits of higher instruction within the reach of all desiring them. The plan inaugurated last year by which pupils in the remote settlements are being given primary instruction for the first time by means of travelling schools and correspondence courses, has met with marked success and will be extended as required to cover all districts not hitherto served with schools. The inquiry into certain schools attended by French-speaking pupils is being steadily proceeded with and will be concluded, it is hoped, during the present year.

A measure of progress has been made in the preliminary steps for the development of the powers of the St. Lawrence River in international waters. As this power will not be available, under the most favourable circumstances, in time to meet the immediately approaching needs of the Province, the Hydro-Electric Power Commission has entered into arrangements to secure a supply of electrical energy from the Gatineau River. Furthermore, my Ministers and the Commission have conferred with the Government of Quebec with a view to the utilization of the powers of the Ottawa River in inter-provincial waters.

Owing to the fact that the City of Fort William has now entered the family of municipalities served by the Power Commission, the output of the Nipigon Development is fully taxed and provision is being made for additional power. The extension of the Hydro-Electric service into the rural districts continues to make satisfactory progress.

The policy of perpetuating our timber wealth by segregating areas adapted to the natural reproduction of the forests, has received much consideration from my Ministers, and legislation may be introduced in that connection. During the past season the air protection service demonstrated its utility not only in the detection, but in the suppression of fires and the prevention of loss to the public domain.

Mining activities during the past year were productive of an unusually large number of promising discoveries of gold, copper, zinc and lead. The two last-named metals have so far been unimportant factors in our mining operations, but there are good prospects of their shortly providing a substantial addition to the output of the Province. The situation of mining in Ontario justifies the growing confidence of the public in the future of the industry.

Owing to the promising outlook of that portion of the Province lying north of the present terminus of the Temiskaming and Northern Ontario Railway, it would appear that the time is now opportune for making further progress towards James Bay, thereby opening up additional areas for exploration and probable development.

The Department of Public Works has nearly completed the new East Block, which has been constructed almost entirely of Ontario products, and therefore affords a useful demonstration of the resources of this Province, notably of limestone, marble and other structural materials. It is anticipated that the grouping together of the various provincial offices in Toronto will prove a convenience to the public and lead to more efficient service.

Negotiations are in progress for acquiring additional lands in the vicinity of the Queen's Park from the University of Toronto, for the purpose of controlling property that will eventually be needed for the increasing legislative, departmental and educational requirements of the Province.

The construction at the Canadian National Exhibition of a building devoted to the Province of Ontario, proved to be a decided acquisition to that important exposition. The building also served to draw increased attention to the products and resources of this Province. It is expected that eventually several other provinces will be similarly represented.

During the past year sufficient progress was made towards the completion of the main roads to ensure that the original system of provincial highways will have shortly a surface adequate for normal traffic requirements. It is proposed to take over from the counties upwards of 500 miles of roads, and bring them up to the provincial standard. With the re-organization of the county systems a marked improvement in the construction and maintenance of the local avenues of traffic will be effected. The reduction of the fees for motor licenses affords an appreciable measure of relief to the public.

Investigations carried on by the Department of Health are improving the safeguards against occupational and communicable diseases. The inauguration of a dental health day was well received, and led to the voluntary examination of some eighty thousand children. An important feature of the work of the Department of Health was the establishment of a standard for tourists' camps, which will contribute to the comfort and safety of the increasing number of summer visitors who annually come to Ontario.

Through the instrumentality of the Boys' Training School at Bowmanville, youths who were in danger of becoming problems to the community owing to lack of proper discipline and training, are now qualifying for useful careers. Satisfactory progress is being made by the Department of the Provincial Secretary in providing the necessary buildings, and there is general appreciation of the beneficial work and objects of the institution.

Legislation will be introduced to recognize and give effect to the expressed desire of the people of the Province for improvement in the method of control and administration of the sale of liquor.

Among the other measures which will be submitted to you for your consideration will be a Bill to increase the exemption of incomes under the Assessment Law. There will also be Bills regarding the Amusement Tax Act; to further the interests of Agriculture; to amend the Marriage Act; and to revise and consolidate a number of the existing laws.

In pursuance of the policy of retiring the public debt, an issue of serial bonds was recently placed before the public and met with a very favourable reception. Improvement continues to mark the administration of the Provincial finances. The preparation of the Public Accounts is well advanced and the estimates of proposed expenditures will be laid before you at an early date.

In conclusion, I have confidence that the various subjects which will come before you will receive your best consideration, and that under the blessing of Providence your deliberations will conduce to the welfare and prosperity of our people.

His Honour was then pleased to retire.

Was the petition presented by a delegation. 3. Was it in compliance or in partial compliance with that petition that the Government introduced their Bill of 1925, authorizing the increase of the alcoholic content of beer from $2\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. proof spirit to $2\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. absolute alcohol by volume.

1. 1922-23, $7,207.88; 1923-24, $8,554.73; 1924-25, $25,645.61 (including premium for three years on Parliament Buildings); 1925-26, $8,410.41. Total, $49,818.63. 2. $994.08.

Mr. Raney asked the following Question (No. 9):—

1. What amount of electrical power would be produced on the St. Lawrence west of Cornwall by a one stage development. 2. What amount by a two stage development. 3. How long would be required for the construction of the first unit of the two stage system after the commencement of the work. 4. What is the estimated cost of such a unit.

The Prime Minister replied as follows:—

1 (a). As recommended by the Hydro-Electric Power Commission, in their Report to the International Joint Commission of November, 1921, the amount of continuous power would be 1,492,000 horse-power. If, at some future date, the headwater level was raised to Lake Ontario level, on the same basis, the power output would be 1,760,000 horse-power. (b) In the Report of the Joint Board of Engineers, dated November, 1926, the installed power for a single-stage development is stated to be 2,326,000 horse-power. This corresponds to the output from a development with headwater at Lake Ontario level as in (a) with an installation based upon a 78 per cent. load factor. 2 (a). As outlined in the Hydro-Electric Power Commission's Report of 1921, the amount of continuous power developed would be: (1) at Barnhart Island plant, 1,000,000 horse-power; (2) at Morrisburg plant, 600,000 horse-power. Total, 1,600,000 horse-power. (b) As outlined in the Report of the Joint Board of Engineers,

November, 1926, the installed power would be: (1) at Barnhart Island plant, 1,808,600 horse-power; (2) at Ogden Island plant, 406,400 horse-power. Total, 2,215,000 horse-power. The head as proposed for the Barnhart Island plant by the Joint Board is 12.5 feet greater, and for the Ogden Island plant 10 feet less, than those proposed for the same developments in the Report of the Hydro-Electric Power Commission, a net increase of 2.5 feet in total head developed under the Board's scheme. This increase in head accounts for a small portion of the difference in the two figures, the greater part being due to the load factor assumed in determining the amount of power installed. 3. It would require four years to construct the first unit in either the scheme as proposed by the Hydro-Electric Power Commission or by the Joint Board of Engineers. 4. For the plant at Ogden Island (Morrisburg) as proposed in the Report of the Hydro-Electric Power Commission, 1921, the estimated cost of the first unit and providing for 14-foot navigation is $75,223,785. Under the proposal of the Joint Board of Engineers the cost of the first unit would be approximately $75,474,000.

Mr. McLean asked the following Question (No. 11):—

What is the salary or remuneration attached to each such appointment of ex-members.

The Prime Minister replied as follows:—

1. Appointments to fill vacancies on permanent staff, 21; promotions, 4; transfers from temporary to permanent staff, 6; new positions created, 2. 2. After the dissolution of the Legislature and they had ceased to be members, six appointments of ex-members were made. 3, 4 and 5. The names of former members receiving appointments, the positions and emoluments are as follows: G. A. Elliot, Director, Colonization Branch, Department of Agriculture, $3,250; C. R. McKeown, Member and Chairman, Ontario Railway and Municipal Board, $7,000; A. C. Gray, Registrar of Deeds, County of Leeds (paid in fees); R. J. Patterson, Sheriff, County of Victoria (paid in fees); Major A. C. Lewis, Clerk of Legislative Assembly, $3,500.

Mr. Raney asked the following Question (No. 19):—

1. On what occasion or occasions prior to the adoption of the resolution of Friday, the 11th instant, expressing the views of this Legislature on the subject of the Dominion Excise tax on malt and spirituous liquors, has this House offered the Dominion Government the benefit of its advice on subjects within the jurisdiction of the Parliament of Canada. 2. Has the Parliament of Canada ever offered advice to this Legislature. 3. If so, when and in what matter or matters.

The Prime Minister replied as follows:—

1. A complete answer to this question would involve a careful examination of the records of the House for every Session since Confederation. Without attempting such a complete examination, the following instances are recalled:—

JOURNALS OF THE HOUSE, 1888.

Feb. 29th—Motion of Mr. Mowat for the adoption of the resolutions of the Quebec Conference, recommending changes in the constitution of the Senate, the use of Provincial Voters' Lists in the Dominion elections, readjustment of the Provincial subsidies and other matters.

JOURNALS OF THE HOUSE, 1899.

Mar. 16th—Resolution of Honourable A. S. Hardy, Attorney-General, in favour of Senate reform and the appointment of Senators for a limited term only.

JOURNALS OF THE HOUSE, 1911.

Mar. 9th—Resolution of Sir James Whitney protesting against the proposed reciprocity arrangement between the Dominion and the United States.

JOURNALS OF THE HOUSE, 1920.

Apr. 14th—Resolution of Mr. McCreary, requesting the Dominion Government to cause a vote of the people to be taken on the question of the importation of intoxicating liquors.

May 3rd—Resolution by Honourable Mr. Carmichael, urging upon the Dominion Government the reconsideration of its reported intention to move certain soldier patients from Euclid Hall, Toronto, to Burlington.

JOURNALS OF THE HOUSE, 1921.

Apr. 29th—Resolution by Mr. Fowler, declaring that certain Hearst publications should be excluded from circulation in Canada, and asking the Dominion Government to take action.

Apr. 29th—Resolution by Mr. Heenan, asking the Dominion Government to amend The Federal Railways Act so that Members of the Legislature be given free transportation on National Railways through all parts of Canada.

JOURNALS OF THE HOUSE, 1922.

May 4th—Resolution of Mr. McNamara, approving of the decision of the Dominion Government to erect a suitable monument on Vimy Ridge to commemorate the achievements of the Canadian forces in the Great War.

JOURNALS OF THE HOUSE, 1924.

Apr. 4th—Resolution of Mr. Keefer, recommending the Government of Canada to request the Government of the United States to take and exercise control over works that permit of the Chicago diversion of water from the Great Lakes.

2. An answer to this question would involve a similar examination of the records of the Parliament of Canada. No such examination has been made for this purpose and therefore the information is not available. 3. Answered by the reply to Question No. 2.

Apart from any resolutions adopted by the Dominion Parliament, the views of Parliament on Provincial matters have been communicated from time to time to the Provincial Government through the exercise of the power of disallowance; through the enactment of legislation properly within the jurisdiction of the Province; through the expression of opinions on provincial legislation by the Minister of Justice on applications for disallowance; through the assumption of jurisdiction over property vested in the Province, and through the medium of conferences between the Provincial and the Dominion Governments held at various times.

It is apparent that the Parliament of Canada assumes to occupy a different position toward the Provinces than the Provinces occupy toward the Parliament of Canada. In the case of the Federal Parliament it sometimes exercises paramount authority over matters clearly within the jurisdiction of the Province, and instead of tendering advice, it declares works under provincial jurisdiction to be for the general advantage of Canada, as has been done with regard to a number of railways and public works, and thus brings them under its own jurisdiction without consultation with the Province.

Referred to the Committee on Private Bills.

On motion of Mr. Ferguson, seconded by Mr. Raney,

Resolved, That this House respectfully urges the Parliament of Canada not to enact Bill (No. 78) of the House of Commons respecting the Montreal, Ottawa and Georgian Bay Company for the reasons hereinafter set forth:—

That the Bill proposes to renew a charter to authorize the construction of a canal and the development of water powers on the Ottawa and the French Rivers which said charter has already been in existence for thirty-three years without any evidence of progress toward the accomplishment of the projected canal;

That the application to Parliament is an effort on the part of private promoters to secure through the Federal Parliament the control and ownership of a great and valuable public utility;

That the water powers in the Ottawa River in inter-provincial waters are the joint property of the Provinces of Ontario and Quebec, and that the powers in the French River are wholly situate within Ontario and are the property of the Province of Ontario and cannot be rightfully legislated upon by the Dominion Parliament;

That the development of these powers is essential to the industry and the prosperity of the two Provinces of Ontario and Quebec, and the only effect of Federal legislation purporting to vest these powers in a private company will be to retard development, create litigation and impair the public interest;

That the water powers of the Ottawa River, so far as they belong to this Province, are an essential part of the public development and distribution of power in Ontario in which the people of this Province have already invested upwards of $276,000,000;

That this Legislative Assembly desires to record its most earnest and emphatic protest against the attempt being made, by means of a Private Bill in the Dominion Parliament, to alienate valuable water powers from the control and ownership of this Province, and thereby deprive the people of Ontario of the advantage of one of our greatest natural resources for the benefit and advantage of private promoters;

That the Province of Ontario respectfully urges that the rights guaranteed to the Provinces under the Federal Constitution should be at all times respected by the Parliament of Canada;

That this House believes that the occasion calls for a strong and conclusive pronouncement against the proposed legislation as being contrary to the spirit and the terms of Confederation and prejudicial to the public interest.

For these and other reasons this House directs that copies of this Resolution be forwarded to the Prime Minister of Canada and to the Speakers of the two Houses of Parliament of Canada.

In connection with the motion standing on the Order Paper in the name of Mr. Sandy, Mr. Speaker addressed the House as follows:—

Before the Orders of the Day, I wish to deal with the question raised by the honourable member for Prince Edward on the afternoon of March 1st. The honourable member on that occasion asked for a ruling as to the standing of the notice of motion placed on the Order Paper in the name of the member for Victoria, South, as follows:—

"That in the opinion of this House the bonus to Hydro-Electric Power lines in rural areas ought to be increased to eighty per cent. of their cost, and that the time has come for their formulation of a scheme for the equalization of Hydro rates to the smaller urban centres and for the formulation of a plan to finance the ever-increasing demand for power for farm purposes and for the use of the smaller urban centres."

Without dealing with the question of the standing of the discussion evoked on that occasion, I think it wise, the matter having been brought in question, to deal with the point raised by the member for Prince Edward.

I am happy to be able to state that the question of the admission of such motions as that submitted by the member for Victoria, South, can be clearly settled without going outside the records of this House. In the Journals of the House there are numerous occasions since Confederation on which such motions have been called to the attention of the Speaker through objection having been taken to their consideration by the House. It has been argued in support of such motions that they are only "abstract motions" and as such do not definitely appropriate sums from the public treasury. The fact that they are "abstract motions" has always been recognized but nevertheless the decision has always been against their admission.

During the second session of this House after Confederation, on December 14th, 1868, a motion was made by one of the members (Mr. McDougall), to the following effect:—

1. That with a view to attract immigration into this Province it is expedient to provide that on and after the first day of April, immediately subsequent to settlement on any lot, the regulations of the Government having been complied with, the locater of such lot should have the right to cut and dispose of the timber on it, free from any Government charges.

2. That the right to cut pine on timber berths during at least ten years should, subsequent to the foregoing resolution, be given to license holders, under such charges for ground rent, duty, etc., and such other provisions as may be made by the Government of this Province.

An objection was taken to this motion by the then Attorney-General (Mr. Macdonald), on the ground that it could not be entertained without the recommendation of the Lieutenant-Governor having been previously obtained, and the Hon. John Stevenson, the first Speaker of this Assembly, ruled:—

“That as timber affords revenue, no question as to the disposal of the same can be entertained without the approval of the Lieutenant-Governor having been previously obtained.”

An appeal having been made against the Speaker's ruling his decision was sustained by the House by a vote of 40 to 28.

Another decision by the same Speaker, and one dealing with a motion which compares more closely, perhaps, than does the previous precedent, with the matter of the present enquiry, was made on the same day, December 14th, 1868. This motion was by another private member (Mr. Perry) to the effect,—

“That in the opinion of this House, it is expedient that the statutes enacted by this House be furnished free of charge, to all magistrates who have duly qualified.”

On the objection of the Honourable the Attorney-General that the motion could not be entertained as it effected the revenue, the Speaker decided,—

“That the motion could not be entertained.”

These decisions of the first Speaker called to preside over the deliberations of this Assembly have formed the precedents on which many other decisions have been based when dealing with such abstract questions as we are now considering. On March 11th, 1874, objection was taken to a motion,—

“That in the opinion of this House, it is expedient that provision be made by which municipalities entitled to payments under The Municipal Loan Fund Act of 1873 shall be permitted to extend their appropriations in accordance with the wishes of the ratepayers, as expressed through their councils, or by-laws, to be passed and approved of by them.”

In giving his decision on the 23rd of the same month, Mr. Speaker Wells said in part—

“I see no difference between such an important change in the distribution of the fund as is now contemplated, and a resolution which would assume to appropriate any part of the public revenue. The one is just as objectionable in principle as the other and the same reasoning is applicable to the one as to the other throughout all the cases which I have consulted.”

Following a reference to the first ruling of Mr. Speaker Stevenson referred to herein, Mr. Speaker Wells concludes—

“Believing, as I do, that there is in principle no difference between a resolution which proposes a grant of money, and one which proposes to apply a grant already made to an entirely different purpose from that recommended by the Crown, and finding an express decision not only by the Speaker, but of the House itself, against such motions, I cannot do other than rule in favour of the objection.”

Another motion, which in principle is practically the same as the one we are considering was presented to the House on December 11th, 1874, as follows:—

“This House, while concurring in the Resolution, desires to express the opinion that so long as the policy of granting Provincial aid to charitable institutions of the character of those mentioned in the schedules to “The Charity Aid Act of 1874” continues, justice demands that such aid should not be confined to the institutions mentioned in the said schedules, but that it should be extended to other institutions of the like character and usefulness, which have come into existence since the passing of the Act.”

On an objection being taken to the proposed motion the Speaker decided as follows:—

“That this motion seeks to commit the House to a future expenditure of public money. I feel bound to follow my decision of last Session upon this subject, following a decision confirmed by the House upon appeal in 1868 as to the Crown timber dues. The effect of these decisions is practically to put an end to abstract resolutions of that character, and I therefore feel bound to rule this motion out of order.”

That these rulings were well founded is further shown by the fact that they conform to the practice obtaining in the British House of Commons as set forth in Sir T. Erskine May's Parliamentary Practice. In the thirteenth edition of that work, on page 504, the following passage deals with this question:—

“The Commons have faithfully maintained the duty and responsibility of the sovereign, and their own, regarding the custody of public money and the imposition of charges upon the people, by standing orders framed especially for that purpose. Three of these standing orders, Nos. 66-68, were the first, and for more than a century were the only, standing orders made by the Commons for their self-government; and the regulations prescribed by these standing orders have been from time to time extended and applied. Under the practice thus established, every motion which in any way creates a charge upon the public revenue, or upon the revenues of India, must receive the recommendation of the Crown before it can be entertained by the House.

“Unless the recommendation of the Sovereign enjoined by these standing orders be signified, in the manner mentioned in this paragraph, the Speaker cannot put the question on a motion which comes within the scope of these standing orders. Accordingly, if any motion, or bill, or proceeding is offered to be moved, whether in the House or in a committee, which requires, but fails to receive, the recommendation of the Crown, it is the duty of the Chair to announce that no question can be proposed upon the motion, or to direct the withdrawal of the bill."

And again in the same edition on page 598 the following procedure is indicated for the consideration of such a motion as is here proposed:—

"The King's recommendation is signified to the Commons by a Minister of the Crown, on receiving petitions, on motions for the introduction of bills, or on the offer of other motions, involving any public expenditure or grant of money not included in the annual estimates."

The rulings quoted, as well as the British practice, are also in accord with the procedure laid down in "The British North America Act," 30 Vict., chap. 3, 1867, section 54 of which says:—

"It shall not be lawful for the House to adopt or pass any vote, resolution, address or bill for the appropriation of any part of the public revenue, or of any tax or impost, to any purpose that has not been first recommended by the Crown."

With such well established practice to guide me, being of the opinion, as I am, that the motion proposed by the honourable member for Victoria South is of the same character as those dealt with in the rulings quoted, I have no other course than to rule that the motion in question is out of order and cannot be admitted to discussion in this House.

Mr. Kennedy (Peel) presented the report of the Standing Committee on Agriculture and Colonization. (Sessional Papers, No. 44.)

Mr. Speaker addressed the House as follows:—

On Tuesday, March 29th, a ruling was demanded by the honourable member for Prince Edward as to whether the following Motion offered by the honourable member for South Ontario, viz.:

That the Public Accounts Committee be called to meet for organization purposes on Friday, March 4th, 1927, at 10.00 a.m.

was in order.

My opinion is that this Motion lapsed when the honourable member who gave notice of it failed to move it before the date fixed in it for the meeting of the Committee. He had the option of changing the date at any time, and having refused to do so, I consider it is out of order to move such a Motion twenty-five days after it is proposed that the Committee should meet.

I may say, however, that I am aware of no precedent on which to base a ruling, and since a ruling has been asked, I can only give my view of the matter in accordance with the dictates of common sense.

Mr. Mewhinney asked the following Question (No. 105):—

1. What was the total revenue received in the last fiscal year by the Government from the mining lands of Northern Ontario. 2. What was the total revenue received in the last fiscal year from the lands and forests of Northern Ontario, other than mining lands. 3. What was the total net operating profits of the Temiskaming and Northern Ontario Railway in the last fiscal year.

1. How many miles of Rural Hydro lines have been built in the County of Dundas. 2. What did these lines cost to build. 3. How many farmers are served thereby. 4. What is the cost per horse-power.

The Prime Minister replied as follows:—

1. 4.18. 2. $3,799.24. 3. Nine. 4. At Williamsburg, 8 cents per kilowatt hour. At Chesterville, $46.50 per horse-power per year.

On motion of Mr. Sinclair, seconded by Mr. Mewhinney,

Resolved, That in the opinion of this House the Public Accounts of the Province of Ontario should contain a statement in detail of all revenues and expenditures in connection with the Temiskaming and Northern Ontario Railway Commission, the Board of License Commissioners for Ontario, The Queen Victoria Niagara Falls Park Commission and the Hydro-Electric Power Commission, similar to the statements furnished by the various departments of Government.

On motion of Mr. Scott, seconded by Mr. Anderson,

Resolved, That in the opinion of this House the development of Northern Ontario is of vital interest to all the people of the Province, and that moneys granted by this House from time to time under The Northern and Northwestern Ontario Development Act, should be used only after appropriations therefrom have been approved by the House in Estimates, showing the work proposed to be done in each district, the estimated cost thereof, and the relation of the proposed work in each district to the general scheme of development.

Resolved, on this important occasion in the history of our country, when we are about to celebrate the Diamond Jubilee of Confederation, this House unanimously desires to place on record its profound sense of the notable progress the Dominion of Canada, and especially the Province of Ontario, have made during the past sixty years.

While the people of Ontario rejoice in the advancement of the Province along many and varied lines of enterprise, the betterment of the conditions of life, and the moral, social and material advance of the community, we value all these advantages in proportion as they contribute to the general welfare of the whole Dominion and of the Empire in which we have a common citizenship.

Realizing that the spirit of unity, co-operation and conciliation that inspired the Fathers of Confederation is as essential to-day as it ever was to the welfare of our country, this House extends its most cordial greetings to all our sister provinces as well as to Canadians everywhere, and earnestly hopes that the approaching celebration of the Diamond Jubilee of Confederation will be an occasion for knitting together more closely all the various provinces in a spirit of good-will and co-operation, and that it will serve to renew the devotion to high ideals and the realization of public responsibilities which have long been characteristic of the Canadian people.

To this end this Legislative Assembly earnestly recommends that all public bodies, including municipal councils, school boards, patriotic, business and fraternal organizations utilize every available means for commemorating the Diamond Jubilee of Confederation so that it may be accomplished in a manner that will worthily express the patriotism of the people of Canada, and will serve to impress the world with our devotion to our country and our abiding faith in its future, and in the permanence of our liberties and institutions.

May it please Your Honour:

We, His Majesty's most dutiful and faithful subjects, the Legislative Assembly of the Province of Ontario, in Session assembled, approach Your Honour with sentiments of unfeigned devotion and loyalty to His Majesty's person and Government, and humbly beg to present for Your Honour's acceptance a Bill intituled "An Act for granting to His Majesty certain sums of money for the Public Service of the financial year ending on the 31st day of October, 1927, and for the Public Service of the financial year ending the 31st day of October, 1928, and for other purposes therein mentioned.

To this Act the Royal Assent was announced by the Clerk of the Legislative Assembly in the following words:—

"His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor doth thank His Majesty's dutiful and loyal Subjects, accept their benevolence and assent to this Act in His Majesty's name."

His Honour was then pleased to deliver the following speech:—

Mr. Speaker and Gentlemen of the Legislative Assembly:

Your labours having been concluded, I am privileged at this time to relieve you from the necessity of further attendance at this Session of the Legislative Assembly.

I desire at the outset to commend the expression of devotion to our country, and faith in its future, that characterizes your unanimous deliverance on the Diamond Jubilee of Confederation. I join heartily with you in the hope that the occasion will be fittingly observed, and will knit more closely together the various Provinces and the people of our great Dominion.

Agriculture has received much of your attention both in the generous appropriations that have been voted, and in the legislative enactments. Much-needed provision has been made for energetic action in the control of the growing menace of noxious weeds. Machinery has been created for safeguarding the interests of fruit and vegetable growers in the disposal of their products on a commission basis. The establishment of a minimum standard and sanitary safeguards for the marketing of cream, will prove of advantage alike to producers and consumers. An important step has been taken in the confirmation of Federal legislation in regard to the grading and inspection of agricultural products, while the provincial authority in this regard has been carefully reserved.

The financial provision you have made for education is fully warranted by the flourishing condition of the educational system, which owes so much of its present vitality to the efforts and wishes of the people at large. I am glad to observe the provision for the encouragement of athletics among the school children of the Province, which cannot fail to promote their physical welfare.

By providing for the further extension of the Hydro-Electric power undertakings you have taken steps to ensure that power will be available to meet the growing requirements of the Province. Owing to the delay in the development of the St. Lawrence River, arising out of the international aspect of the matter, the early utilization of the powers of the Ottawa River has become essential to Ontario. It is earnestly to be hoped that no obstruction will be allowed to retard this necessary public undertaking.

It is very satisfactory to observe the extension of the Hydro-Electric service to the rural districts, both as a means of improving the conditions of country life and of applying modern methods to the agricultural industry.

The work of the Session has been marked by the preparation and enactment of legislation to control the sale of liquor. By your careful adherence to the principles approved by the electors you have enlisted a degree of public support for the measure which should ensure the most favourable conditions for its operation and enforcement. It is earnestly hoped that the new law will promote better conditions throughout the Province in connection with the consumption of liquor, and my Ministers count upon the co-operation of all well-disposed people for that very desirable purpose.

Further recognition of the importance of our forest resources, and of the industries dependent upon them, has been given by your approval of the Forestry Act. This measure is the result of a policy of segregating regions primarily adapted to timber growth, thus laying the foundation for the perpetuation of our wooded areas. The work will be under the direction of a Board composed of men of recognized technical and practical qualifications, and will eventually lead to the redemption of large portions of the Province hitherto classified as unproductive.

My Ministers intend shortly to resume the extension of the Temiskaming and Northern Ontario Railway further north toward James Bay, as well as to complete the branch line into the Rouyn mining region. The economic advantage the mining industry will derive from the linking up of the richly mineralized areas in the North country will contribute to the prosperity of the whole Dominion.

Sufficient progress has been made in the exploration of the recently discovered deposits of lead-copper-zinc ore near the Sudbury nickel basin, to warrant the expectation of extensive developments in that locality in the near future. In this connection it is hoped that provision will be made for customs smelting and refining so that owners of small mines in Northern Ontario may be placed in a better position to realize upon the products of their properties.

Increasing traffic on the highways has rendered necessary certain amendments to the law in the interest of public safety. One of these amendments, which will become effective after the first of October next, requires that all horse-drawn vehicles shall carry lights. Further amendments permit an increased rate of speed by motor vehicles outside of urban municipalities, and place a greater responsibility in respect of negligence upon drivers of automobiles.

The consolidation of the work of the Department of Health, by the merging of the Provincial Board with the departmental organization, is designed to unify the control of this important service, and make it a more effective means of conserving the public health.

Several of the measures you have adopted are the result of the careful revision of the Statutes which has been in progress for some time. The work of the revising commission, now having been accomplished, it is hoped that before your next Session the new edition of the Revised Statutes will be issued from the press and distributed.

In conclusion I desire to thank you for the generous provision you have made for the maintenance of the various public services, and to assure you that these appropriations will be administered with due regard to economy and efficiency. I wish also to thank you for the careful and expeditious enactment of much beneficial legislation, and to express the hope that under the blessing of Providence your labours will enure to the welfare and happiness of our people in every walk of life.

The Provincial Secretary then said:—

Mr. Speaker and Gentlemen of the Legislative Assembly:—

It is the will and pleasure of His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor, that this Legislative Assembly be prorogued and this Legislative Assembly is accordingly prorogued.

Minutes of the Meetings of the Fish and Game Committee, 1927

Report of the Committee on Fish and Game, 1927

February 25th.

The Fish and Game Committee of the Ontario Legislature held its first meeting for the session of 1927 in the Reception Room of the Parliament Buildings at 10.30 o'clock on the morning of Friday, February 25th. The meeting was the organization one of the Committee, and upon the motion of Hon. Chas. McCrea, Hon. Jos. E. Thompson, M.P.P., St. David's, was elected as Chairman for the year. The following members of the Committee were in attendance: Messrs. Anderson, Birkett, Calder, Costello, Currie, Earngey, Ecclestone, Fletcher, Harcourt, Hill, Kennedy, Kidd, Mathieu, Mewhinney, Miller, Ming, Moore, Murphy, McCrea, Newman, Oliver, Poisson, Robertson, Robb, Ross, Sandy, Skinner, Spence, Stedman, Taylor, Thompson, Vaughan, Weichel, Widdifield, Wright.

Hon. Mr. McCrea brought before the Committee the Bill to consolidate the fish and game laws of the Province and went over the measure, clause by clause, explaining the new provisions in it to the members.

Some discussion ensued over changes which section 3 of the new Act provided. One change was to make the taking out of licenses compulsory for guides and to define the term guide so that it would apply to anyone undertaking guide duties for gain or reward. Hon. Mr. McCrea explained that the policy of the Department back of this change was the policy with which every member of the Committee was in agreement, namely, conservation of the great asset which the Province had in its fish and game resources and the realization at the same time of a reasonable revenue from them. Mr. Widdifield wondered if the legislation might not be evaded by hunting parties employing guides in the guise of handy men. Mr. Sandy was anxious that the legislation should not prevent parties going out without a guide. Mr. Weichel was interested in the requirements that would be specified as a basis of a license, pointing out that Indians who are in many cases the very best guides, might find it difficult to qualify if the requirements were based on any tests of literacy. Hon. Mr. McCrea gave assurance that it was not the Department's intention to enforce any drastic legislation. He said that the granting of licenses would be done largely on the recommendation of a district overseer who would know the qualifications of the applicant. The aim of the legislation, Hon. Mr. McCrea said, was to accredit the guides of the Province in order that tourists might have greater confidence in them, and also to enlist the co-operation of the guides in the enforcement of the game laws of the Province.

Section 3 also interpreted the term "hunt" in order to make convictions easier for the Department and it defined non-residents in order that there might be a clearly stated principle for applying the discriminatory license fees charged to this class. Section 3 also defined the terms "officer," "one day," "person," and "resident."

Discussion again ensued on the proposed clause in the Act making the deer and moose season north and west of the French River and Mattawa River open on October 10th and close on November 20th, thus advancing it ten days. Hon. Mr. McCrea explained that the change was being made at the request of sportsmen interests in the north country, who claimed that the season as it had existed had opened too late and that valuable tourists traffic was being lost to the district. Col. Currie urged that "the season south and east of the French and Mattawa Rivers should also open earlier. He claimed that under present conditions, hunters were unable to get their deer, while the settlers would shoot them before the season opened and then sell them when the hunters would arrive. The Committee Chairman assured Col. Currie that the matter would be considered at a later meeting of the Committee.

Section 2, subsection 2 in the new Act, prohibited the use of poison for killing any fur-bearing animals. Hon. Mr. McCrea stated that the improvement in the wolf snare made such legislation now feasible. Section 17 was explained as providing for a license for non-resident fur dealers. Section 19 prohibited the employment of unlicensed guides. Section 20 provided for the issuing of trapping licenses to residents only. Section 26 reduced the royalties on black and silver foxes from $10 to $5, to conform with other provinces. Section 29 required that all skins of fur-bearing animals taken in closed season be reported to the Department within ten days. Section 32 required the loss of dogs in the woods to be reported so that they might be found if possible and prevented from going wild. Section 34 required that a permit be obtained to hold in the closed season pelts taken outside of Ontario.

In this connection, Col. Currie raised the point of providing penalties in the Act for a white man who kills beaver and sells the skins to Indians. Hon. Mr. McCrea instructed that a memorandum be made of the matter and that the Department recommend a clause to cover the point.

Section 42 placed the onus of proof upon the owner to show that an automatic shot gun was not being used illegally in the killing of game. Section 43 permitted a resident railway employee to carry firearms. Section 44 protected signs put up by the Department. Section 46 required that poles used with lines of baited hooks be marked with the owner's name. Section 48 prevented game or fish which might lawfully be had from being served under the name of anything which might not be served lawfully in hotels, etc. Sections 12 (2) and 35 (5) of the Bill were along the same lines. Section 49 permitted a search of a motor vehicle by Department officers looking for game illegally in possession. Section 51 provided that the shipping coupon should expire four days instead of ten, after the close of the season. Section 58 replaced the now obsolete sections which permitted the Department to deal in fish as a war-time measure. Section 58 provided that only the deputy minister, assistant deputy, inspectors and district wardens should be justices of the peace under the Act. Section 60 gave the Department official discretion as to whether or not he should arrest a person whom he had caught in an offence. The same section extended the powers of seizure to vehicles, motor cars, aeroplanes and air guns, and the same section extended the right to search Nipigon fishing camps to angling and hunting camps anywhere. Section 62 abolished the limitation, whereby the offender against the Act could not be taken farther than ten miles from his home for trial, this change placing the fish and game Act on the same basis as other provincial law. The same section extended the period of limitation from six to twelve months in order that non-residents who come to the Province only once yearly might be charged with the offences of a previous year if the Department should deem it wise to do so. Section 63 made mere possession of a seine net prima facie evidence of guilt, unless there should be lawful excuse. Section 64 made various changes in the penalties of the Act, increasing minimum fine for violation of conditions of license or permit from $5 to $10, reducing from $200 to $100 the maximum penalty for offences in respect of deer, moose, caribou, beaver, otter, fisher, and marten, increasing from $20 to $30 the maximum fine in respect to the exported beaver, increasing from $5 to $10 and from $50 to $100 respectively the minimum and maximum fines for penalties not specially provided for, raising from $100 to $500 the penalty for the obstruction of officers, and giving to the Minister the power now held by justices of the peace to remit penalties or reduce fines. Section 65 provided that forfeiture of means of transportation, gear, etc., should take place only after conviction and not upon seizure as before. A new part 9 of the Act was read by Hon. Mr. McCrea and contained the law which covered control over trespassers.

Dr. Poisson brought to the attention of the Committee the case of poachers in the Lake Erie district who fished on top of the seine nets and stole their fish and even destroyed the nets. He believed that the fishermen who paid a license fee to the Government were entitled to protection. Hon. Mr. McCrea agreed and instructed that a clause be drafted to cover the point.

The Committee then adjourned to meet again on Wednesday, March 2nd, at 10.30 o'clock.

March 2nd.

The Committee on Fish and Game convened for its second meeting of the 1927 session at 10.30 o'clock on the morning of Wednesday, March 2nd. The following members were present: Messrs. Costello, Currie, Earngey, Graves, Harcourt, Hill, Homuth, Ireland, Kennedy (Temiskaming) Legault, Macdiarmid, Miller (Elgin), Ming, Moore, Morel, Murphy, McNaughton, Oliver, Pinard, Poisson, Reid, Ross, Sandy, Skinner, Taylor, Thompson (Toronto), Vaughan, Weichel, Widdifield, Willson (Niagara Falls).

The day was given over to the hearing of depositions, the first one being received from the Muskrat Breeders' Association.

Upon behalf of this association, L. M. Brown of Port Rowan, asked that the present law be amended so as to remove the limit of fifty acres placed upon the enclosure which a muskrat fur farmer is allowed to maintain. He also asked for some simpler method of securing permits for the export of rats in the closed season, his suggestion being that the Department should issue shipping tags or that it should permit shipments and accept a certified account of the shipments at the close of the season.

Editor Hudson of the Fur Trade News addressed the Committee to the same effect as Mr. Brown, and expressed the view that the law governing muskrat farms was more favourable in many of the United States and in British Columbia than it was in Ontario.

Mr. Ferris brought forward the case of the muskrat trapper, and urged that the law prohibiting the setting of traps within five feet of the muskrat house, in the runways, or in the feeding ground should be amended. It prevented, he declared, the trapping of rats, since it required the trap to be placed in places where the muskrat did not go.

The Committee heard the representations of the Muskrat Breeders, and Chairman Thompson promised that the points raised would receive full consideration.

The Committee then heard a deputation from the Ontario Hunters' Game and Fish Protective Association.

The spokesmen for the deputation were President, W. J. Moody of Kitchener; Second Vice-President, Dr. N. A. Powell of Toronto; Secretary-Treasurer, J. C. Richardson of Toronto, and Wm. Pears of the Executive Committee. Speaking as persons interested in the fish and game of the Province from a conservation standpoint and particularly with a view of seeing it perpetuated for future generations of Ontario sportsmen, the spokesmen for the deputation urged the following changes in the law upon the Committee:

- (1) The prohibition of the sale of deer, moose and caribou.
- (2) That the daily bag limit for ducks be set at fifteen per day, or 120 for the season; that duck hunters be limited to one gun per man; that baiting be disallowed, and that blinds only be allowed on the shore line.
- (3) Creation of more game sanctuaries.
- (4) That the wolf bounty be uniform, irrespective of the age of the wolf or pup captured.
- (5) That the opening date for bass, pickerel and lunge be made July 1st in each year.
- (6) That pike be protected in the waters of Hamilton Bay.
- (7) That no foxes or bear be taken or hunted during the summer months.
- (8) That the Fish and Game Committee use its influence to have a greater number of counties adopt the gun license.
- (9) That the cooper's hawk should be added to the list of birds that can be destroyed at any time, since it is just as destructive as the sharp-shinned hawk.

The spokesmen for the deputation were heard and the Committee gave assurance that the representations would receive full consideration.

The Committee then heard from Dr. Meyer of Ridgetown the requests of the Kent County Gun Club, which at present has a membership of 148, who asked:

- (1) That the chasing of ducks should be prohibited.
- (2) That the distance of decoys or hides from shore should remain at 200 yards.
- (3) That decoys should not be removed from the water overnight, with the provision that they should not remain in the water on Sundays.
- (4) That shooting in Rondeau Bay begin on October 1st.
- (5) That shooting should be between the hours of 8 a.m. and 4 p.m.
- (6) That the distance between hides and decoys should be enlarged.

The Committee heard the representation of Dr. Meyer, and promised that the points raised would have due consideration.

The Committee then adjourned at 12.30 a.m., after having agreed to meet again on the morning of Wednesday, March 9th, at 10 a.m.

March 9th.

The Fish and Game Committee of the Ontario Legislature held its third meeting for the 1927 session at 1.30 o'clock on the afternoon of Wednesday, March 9th. The following members were in attendance: Messrs. Anderson, Calder, Earngey, Fletcher, Gardiner, Graves, Harcourt, Hill, Kidd, Legault, Lethbridge, Macdiarmid, Mewhinney, Miller, Ming, Moore, McCrea, McNaughton, Newman, Oliver, Poisson, Robertson (Northumberland), Robb, Sandy, Skinner, Spence, Stedman, Taylor, Thompson (St. David), Thompson (Lanark), Willson (Niagara Falls), Wilson (London), Wright.

The Committee heard a deputation representative of the Toronto Anglers' Association, on behalf of whom the following speakers made representations:

Mr. Walter Davidson, who expressed the view that the pickerel season should open on the same date as the bass season, and that a greater proportion of the Department's revenue than one-half should be turned back into the improvement of the fish and game resources of the Province. Mr. Davidson specified the problems of angling as threefold, namely, (1) of research, which called for a greater appropriation for the department of biology in the University of Toronto; (2) of protection, which required a greater force of impartial game wardens; (3) of restocking, in which connection attention should be directed to depleted streams.

Dr. W. R. Wilson, who stressed the efforts which the Anglers' Association was making to interest the people resident in the fishing districts in the importance of conservation, telling them that each tourist was worth $100 to the locality and each fish about ten cents. Dr. Wilson suggested that a sign should be erected beneath or attached to the fire signs in the fishing districts, bearing the legend: "If you wish to fish here next year, obey the game laws; if you do not wish to fish here next year, some one else will, so obey the game laws." Dr. Wilson referred in conclusion to the periodic destruction of lunge along the Trent waterways. He mentioned as the two chief causes the lowering of waters for canal purposes at various times in the year, and the depletion wrought by local inhabitants. He urged that the Government should send a biologist to these waters to study the whole problem.

Gregory Clark, who gave to the Committee the result of research which Dr. A. P. Knight, eminent biologist, had made. The research had been directed towards finding out what percentage of fry deposited under the present methods survive. The result had been to discover that fully eighty per cent. were consumed by enemy fish. Dr. Knight's report urged that not only should the waters in which fry are deposited be carefully studied, but also that the distribution itself should be made over a wide area in a careful manner, instead of the fry simply being dumped in the one spot. Dr. Knight also recommended that enemy fish should be seined out. Mr. Clark also spoke in the interests of generous treatment of the Fish and Game Department in the supplementary estimates.

William Douglas, who elaborated on the spirit of law enforcement which the Anglers' Association was fostering amongst the Ontario public. He strongly urged that the Fish and Game Department should be dealt with more generously in the Government's estimates. American sportsmen would no longer go to their own streams to fish, he emphasized, which meant that Ontario had the opportunity of catering to this lucrative traffic, as well as to the fishing wants of its own residents.

The representations of the Anglers' were heard by the Committee and assurance of consideration was given on behalf of the Committee by its Chairman, Hon. Mr. Thompson.

Hon. Mr. McCrea, Minister of the Fish and Game Department was in attendance at the meeting to hear the views of the anglers. He inquired their views as to the advisability of opening the bass season on July 1st, and of shortening the trout season by two weeks in September. He pointed out with respect to the bass proposal that the Department biologist had made a study of the bass during the past year and was responsible for the recommendation.

The anglers concurred in the suggestion to open the bass season on July 1st, but did not approve any curtailment of the trout season, declaring that their biologists had informed them that no more harm was occasioned by catching trout in September than in May. They strongly desired that the pickerel season should open on the same date as the bass season, in order that law breakers might not take bass on the pretence that they were fishing for pickerel. Hon. Mr. McCrea pointed out that there would be many local objections to such a law, but stated that he would be glad to go into the matter more fully. He recalled that the legislature last year had passed a local law on the point applying to the Counties of Durham and Northumberland, but not applying to any person fishing from the bank of a stream. Hon. Mr. McCrea's suggestion was that possibly an extension of this law to various other counties would meet the situation.

Dr. Robb brought to the attention of the Committee the fact that the change which had been announced in the hunting season in the north country had created opposition there. He mentioned an indignation meeting which had been held in Sault Ste. Marie. Promise was given by Chairman Thompson, that the matter would be considered at the next meeting.

The Committee then adjourned to meet on Friday morning, March 11th, at 10.30 o'clock.

March 15th.

The Fish and Game Committee of the Ontario Legislature held its fourth sitting of the 1927 session on the morning of Tuesday, March 15th, in the Public Accounts Committee Room. The following members were in attendance: Messrs. Calder, Earngey, Ecclestone, Gardiner, Hill, Kennedy, Lethbridge, Miller (Elgin), McCrea, Newman, Pinard, Poisson, Robb, Sandy, Skinner, Spence, Stedman, Stuart, Taylor, Thompson (St. David), Weichel, Willson (Niagara Falls).

Hon. Mr. McCrea, Minister of the Department of Fish and Game, attended the meeting of the Committee to explain certain conclusions at which the Department had arrived with respect to the bass fishing season and the moose and deer hunting season. With regard to the bass season, he stated that the Department's biologist has been making a careful study of the bass with a view to its protection and propagation. The study had led to the conclusion that many bass which had not yet deposited their spawn were taken by having the season open as early as June 16th. The Department was recommending, accordingly, that the opening be set back to July 1st. There was a further suggestion which was being thrown out but not pressed that the daily limit of catch be reduced from eight to five. Hon. Mr. McCrea said that it would be considered wise to leave the season unchanged along the St. Lawrence waters in view of the fact that the adjacent state of New York opened its season on June 16th.

H. H. McKay, biologist of the Department, addressed the members of the Committee on the research work which he had carried on in connection with bass. He stated that the work had indicated that the change in the season would be advisable.

The Committee agreed that the change in the season should be made except along the St. Lawrence, and that it should open on July 1st. The Committee decided, however, to leave the daily limit of catch unchanged.

Hon. Mr. McCrea then discussed the deer and moose hunting season. He stated that the action of the Committee in opening the season north and west of the French and Mattawa Rivers and south of the Transcontinental Railway ten days earlier and in balancing this change by closing it ten days earlier, had not met with favour in the north country. Hon. Mr. McCrea declared that there were a number of hunters who liked to go into the woods by canoe and that these wished the earlier season. On the other hand, there were a great number of supporters of the later hunting, when the keeping of the deer meat was less of a problem. In order to meet the wishes of both parties the Department was proposing, Hon. Mr. McCrea said, that the season open ten days earlier as the Committee had decided at its first meeting, but that the closing of the season be left unchanged without the cut of ten days. Hon. Mr. McCrea therefore suggested the following seasons to the Committee:

North of the Transcontinental Railway, September 15th to November 30th.

North and west of the French and Mattawa Rivers and south of the Transcontinental Railway, from October 10th to November 30th.

South and east of the French and Mattawa Rivers and Lake Nipissing, November 5th to 30th.

The Committee discussed and agreed upon these seasons as suggested by the Minister.

The question of hunting with dogs was tentatively raised by Mr. Taylor, but upon Hon. Mr. McCrea's suggestion, it was left over. The Minister believed that perhaps next year the whole question of hunting with dogs would have to come up for comprehensive discussion and settlement.

Mr. Ecclestone inquired of the Minister whether or not the Department intended to put on a special patrol of enforcement officers during the hunting season. He was told that it was the practise of the Department to engage a special force during the season and that last year 150 extra men had been so engaged.

Mr. Ecclestone also inquired if the Government intended to appoint a special committee of the House to study the fish and game resources of the Province. Mr. Ecclestone pointed out that agriculture had had a committee to investigate its conditions, and he believed that in view of the growing nature of the tourist traffic and the possibilities of the fur and fish resources, a careful investigation of the whole Province in the light of its fish and game interests would prove most profitable. The cost would be slight to the Province in comparison with the benefit which was to be gained.

Mr. Ecclestone added that he would be glad to personally care for the members of such a committee without cost to the Province during any time which they might spend in Muskoka.

Mr. Taylor supported the suggestion, believing that it would be most advantageous to the Province. Dr. Poisson was sceptical of benefits which were to be secured through such means. He believed that the appointment of such committees had a tendency to take away initiative which properly belonged to the Department.

Hon. Mr. McCrea stated that he would take the suggestion under consideration.

Mr. Gardiner spoke in the interests of some relaxation of the prohibition of the use of nets on the Thames River. He stated that the residents of the district there felt that they had a grievance in the fact that they were not allowed to net fish for domestic use. The residents found it impossible, he claimed, to catch fish with rod and line in the Thames River, or by means of the four-foot net for which an open season was provided. Mr. Lethbridge also spoke to the question. He declared that his information was that seine nets were being used for commercial purposes at the mouth of the Thames River and that this was responsible for the depleted condition of the stream. Dr. Poisson registered his objection to any relaxation of the netting law, recognizing it as a necessary means of conservation.

Hon. Mr. McCrea explained that the problem with which the Department was faced was the restoration of some of the older streams in the Province which had become depleted. The only way in which this could be done was by restrictive conservation measures, such as the prohibition of net fishing represented. He promised, however, that he would send a departmental official to investigate the Thames River situation.

The Committee commenced then to go over the recommendations which had been submitted to it with reference to the various classes of game.

Bear.

The Ontario Hunters' Game and Fish Protective Association recommended a closed season from April 1st to November 1st.

The Committee agreed that no action should be taken.

Duck Season.

Forest H. Conover, Esq., Leamington, recommended a shorter open season of eight weeks.

Nelson Long, Esq., Hamilton, recommended eliminating September from the open season.

J. R. Humphreys, Esq., Department of Education, Toronto, recommended that the season open 15th up to and including September 30th, when season is closed until October 15th and continues up to December 15th, both days inclusive.

D. Marr, Esq., Ridgetown, recommended that the season commence at Rondeau Bay, October 1st.

The Committee agreed that no action should be taken on these recommendations.

Bag Limit.

Forest H. Conover, Esq., Leamington, recommended a daily bag limit of fifteen and a season limit of 100.

Ontario Hunters' Game and Fish Protective Association, recommended a bag limit of fifteen per day and 120 per season.

Nelson Long, Esq., Hamilton, recommended a reduction in the bag limit for ducks.

A petition from sportsmen residing in and around the City of London, opposed any reduction or change in the bag limit.

The Committee agreed that no action should be taken on these recommendations.

Blinds.

Forest H. Conover, Esq., recommended against blinds.

The Ontario Hunters' Game and Fish Protective Association, recommended that baiting be entirely prohibited and that all blinds or hides be allowed only on the shore line.

C. N. Stewart, Esq., City Engineer's Office, Hamilton, recommended an amendment to prohibit the shooting of ducks at a greater distance than seventy-five yards from shore.

A petition from sportsmen residing in and around the City of London, opposed limiting the distance from shore to seventy-five yards.

J. R. Humphreys, Esq.; Department of Education, Toronto, recommended a 200-yard limit.

D. Marr, Esq., Ridgetown, recommended the 200-yard limit, the taking in of decoys, prohibition of the chasing of ducks, that the distance between same be enlarged, and that one day be defined as from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m.

A. Smith, Esq., 242 St. Clair St., Chatham, recommended that duck shooting regulations be left exactly as they are.

Discussion on these regulations ensued in the Committee, with Mr. Taylor strongly favouring the 75-yard limit, arguing that present conditions were making for the commercialization of the sport in Rondeau Bay, where, he declared, hides were rented for from $10 to $25 per day. Mr. Taylor also claimed that ducks were being shipped commercially to the American market from the Rondeau district in the guise of fish. Mr. Willson (Niagara Falls), opposed the 75-yard rule on the ground that it would prevent duck shooting by making the erection of blinds impossible in the many shallow waters which existed in the Lake Erie and St. Clair areas. Following further discussion, the Committee agreed that no action should be taken on the recommendations and that the law should be left as at present.

The Committee then adjourned to meet on Friday morning, March 18th, at 10.30 o'clock.

March 18th.

The Fish and Game Committee of the Ontario Legislature held its fifth meeting of the 1927 session on the morning of Friday, March 18th, at 10 a.m. The following members were in attendance: Messrs. Calder, Earney, Ecclestone, Gardiner, Graves, Hill, Ireland, Kennedy (Temiskaming), Macdiarmid, Miller (Elgin), Murphy, Newman, Oliver, Poisson, Robb, Sandy, Stedman, Taylor, Thompson (St. David), Widdifield, Wright (Simcoe).

The Committee's agenda consisted of considering the many recommendations concerning the fish and game laws which had been submitted to it or to the Department. Action upon them was taken as follows:

The Committee concurred in a resolution from the County of Halton, asking that the gun license be extended to it.

The Committee also upon the initiative of Hon. Mr. Macdiarmid, discussed the advisability of extending the gun license to apply to all counties bordering on Lakes Erie and Ontario as far east as York County. Hon. Mr. Macdiarmid expressed his strong conviction that only by means of a gun license could protection be given to the birds in these counties, especially the song birds and the pheasants, the latter of which the Government was endeavouring to propagate at considerable expense. The members of the Committee were not unanimous upon the plan, Mr. Miller of East Elgin, arguing that a gun license by prohibiting hunting by boys under fifteen, and from perhaps generally discouraging shooting in rural districts, would mean increased protection for the woodchucks and jack-rabbits, which were rapidly becoming farm pests. In view of the lack of unanimity on the matter, however, it was decided by the Committee that it should not make a recommendation. Mr. Graves, in whose district the license has been operative for one year, assured the Committee upon arriving after the subject had been closed that there was the greatest of satisfaction over the license plan amongst his constituents. He had heard of only two complaints during the whole year, he said.

In connection with the matter of protection for the dens of fur-bearing animals, the Department recommended that Section 28, subsection 2 of Bill No. 84 should be replaced by a similar section, reading: "It shall be unlawful for any person to molest or destroy a den or usual place of habitation of any fur-bearing animal, other than wolf." The Committee concurred in this recommendation.

With regard to raccoons, Colonel Emmerton of London, recommended that there be an open season for the months of November and December. The Committee concurred in the recommendation.

The question of the sale of game, which had been threshed out in the Committee of the year before, when it had been passed only to be killed in the House, was again brought forward. Mr. Taylor was decidedly of the opinion that the sale should be barred on the ground that it was leading to a commercialization of the deer and moose season. The Committee concurred in the proposal.

Under the general heading of trap lines, the Department brought to the Committee's attention the omission of the following section governing the snaring of animals. "It shall be unlawful for any person at any time to use a snare for the purpose of taking game, which shall include rabbits, in that part of the Province lying south of the French and Mattawa Rivers." The Committee authorized the dropping of the section from the Act.

The Department also recommended the insertion into the Act of the following clause: "Without lawful excuse no person shall have in his possession or in the possession of his servant or agent or any other person on his behalf at any time the skin of any fur-bearing animals protected by the Act while skin is in unprime condition, excepting skins of muskrat taken in accordance with subsections 5 and 6 of section 11." The Committee authorized the insertion of this clause in the Act.

The Committee also adopted the definition of unprimed skin which the Department suggested as follows: "The word unprime when applied to skins or pelts of fur-bearing animals shall mean any skin or pelt that shows natural markings to any extent of a dark or bluish colour on the flesh side."

The Committee also without dissent adopted the following resolution: "In the opinion of this Committee, we believe that Algonquin Park is a breeding place for wolves and that there should be some co-operation between the Lands and Forests and Fish and Game Departments with a view to the destruction of the wolves."

Upon behalf of various hunters, principally about St. Thomas, Hon. Finlay Macdiarmid argued for a hunting season in that part of the Province south and east of the Mattawa and French Rivers which would open earlier than the present date of November 5th. No great objection was raised in the Committee to the November 1st opening, an advantage of some five days. The Department was also willing in the interests of a uniform closing date throughout the Province to extend the season from November 20th to November 30th. The Committee agreed, accordingly, that the season should open on November 1st and remain open until November 30th.

Mr. Calder asked that the Department should investigate the duck shooting at Rondeau Bay, in view of there having been considerable discussion during the session of alleged commercialization of blinds. He was assured that an official would be sent from the Department to inquire into conditions.

No further business remaining to the Committee, it adjourned for the session at 12.20 o'clock.

Proceedings

STANDING COMMITTEE ON PUBLIC ACCOUNTS

Toronto, March 30th, 1927.

The Committee met for organization in No. 2 Committee Room this date. Hon. J. E. Thompson was elected Chairman, upon motion of Mr. Bradburn and Mr. Nesbitt.

THE CHAIRMAN: Well, gentleman, everybody looks fairly good-natured this morning, and I expect we are going to have a nice, quiet session. I don't think anything that has been spoken of in the House, whether this Committee should be called early or not, will have anything to do with the proceedings of this Committee. We will get right down to business. Anybody wishing to move any resolutions for any information need not worry about the shortness of time because we are all hoping to get through early; as far as I am concerned you can just have all the time you like, and if it is necessary to adjourn the House for a week it will be done, so that any member may get all the information and make all the enquiries he wishes. I think that is all that is necessary to say, and we are ready for any resolution any gentleman might suggest.

MR. SINCLAIR: Mr. Chairman, before presenting the motion I have here, allow me to congratulate you on the preferment which has been extended to you by the members of this Committee. It is true that you have had honours before at the hands of your fellow members, having presided with dignity over the proceedings of the Legislature. Your experience there, I am satisfied, will enable you to carry on the business of this Committee with dignity and honour to this great Committee. Although there are at times troublous scenes in Public Accounts Committee, I do think the experience you have gained in the Legislature will be of great assistance to you, Sir. Let me also say, following the remarks I think I made at the last session of the Legislature, there is an unwritten rule that the man who becomes Chairman of Public Accounts Committee is in line for the next vacancy in the Cabinet. I said that last year and it came true.

THE CHAIRMAN: You aren't promising me anything, are you?

MR. SINCLAIR: I am afraid if I were called upon to form a Cabinet there would be several prior claimants. But I made the remark last year, and Hon. Mr. Finlayson, then in the chair, is now in the Cabinet. Now, Sir, I have a motion which I will present to the Committee for its consideration at the outset. Moved by myself, seconded by Mr. Mewhinney:

"That notwithstanding the rules of this Committee and of the Legislature, and in view of the fact that the Public Accounts Committee is meeting to-day for the first time at this session of the Legislature, and that it is now well understood that the House will conclude its work this week, all business being practically completed, the Public Accounts of 1925-1926 be referred to the Public Accounts Committee of 1928, with full authority to investigate any item therein at said session of 1928 as fully as if said item appeared in the Public Accounts of 1926-1927."

Now, Sir, in support of the motion which I have now made, let me say that to-day is the forty-first day of the present session. We have been here to carry on the work of the House since the second day of February. The Public Accounts for the year ending October 31st, 1926, were presented to the House on the 22nd day of February, and the Journals of that day contain the following: "Ordered, that the Public Accounts of the Province be referred to the Standing Committee on Public Accounts." So that we had the authority on the 22nd day of February for the reference of the Public Accounts to this Committee. That is a resolution which appears from year to year, and the custom is shortly after that resolution to have the Committee convened so that any enquiry which is sought to be made can be commenced. I gave notice in the House that I would move on the 4th day of March—or the third, I think—that the Committee be called for business on the 4th day of March. The Budget debate closed on the 8th day of March. The usual practice for many years in this House was that the Public Accounts should not sit until the close of the Budget debate, but that rule has often been set aside and the Committee has met while the Budget debate was still being carried on. Now for the information of the Committee, let me say in going back from 1920 to the present time what has been the practice of the House in relation to the Budget debate, and in relation to meetings of the Public Accounts Committee. In the year 1920, the Budget debate closed on the 3rd day of May, but the Public Accounts Committee met on the 30th day of March for its first meeting. In the year 1921, the Budget debate closed on the 10th day of March, but the Public Accounts Committee met for its first meeting on February 24th. In the year 1922, the Budget debate closed on May 3rd, but the Public Accounts Committee had its first meeting on April 5th. In the year 1923, the Budget debate closed on April 11th, but the Public Accounts Committee had its first meeting in that year on the 14th day of March. In each of these years the Public Accounts Committee sat on the usual days, Wednesday and Friday, and I think possibly on some other occasions, the Committee being active in each of these years from the date of its first meeting, so that by the time the Budget debate had closed very much evidence had been taken by the Public Accounts Committee. Then in the year 1924 the Budget debate closed on the 5th day of March, and the Committee met on the 7th day of March, almost immediately following the close of the Budget debate. In the year 1925, the Budget debate closed on the 24th day of March, and the Committee met on the 27th day of March. In 1926, the Budget debate closed on March 25th, but the Committee met for its first meeting on March 12th. Last year I made the motion calling for the Committee while the Budget debate was still proceeding, and last year, as you remember, the Government was quite anxious also that the Committee should commence taking evidence. Then this year the close of the Budget debate took place several days ago; I don't have the exact date here, but I think the 8th of March. Thus the Budget debate closed on the 8th day of March and prior to that I had given notice of my motion calling the Public Accounts Committee for the 4th day of March. Now in reference to the notice of motion, let me say I think it is agreed by all that no such notice of motion is necessary, and last year and this year are the only two years since 1920 in which there was any motion to the House that the Public Accounts Committee be called. In each of the years prior to 1926 the Public Accounts Committee met automatically, on the call of the Premier, the Leader of the House. Now in 1927 a different situation seems to have arisen. The Government must have been aware that I was anxious that the Committee should meet, because I placed my notice of motion upon the order paper. The days go by, and this order was never called, and was not called until yesterday, as you will remember, when I brought the matter up before the Orders of the Day. I do not think it can be seriously argued that anyone in the House has a right to call this motion other than the Leader of the House. If our business is to be carried on properly, it must be in charge of the Premier, who is leading the House, and therefore I submit to you, Sir, and to this Committee, that the notice of motion standing in my name should have been called; that the motion should have been discussed, and that the Committee should have been called, if not while the Budget debate was in progress, at least immediately following the close of the debate. One reason particularly why I brought this up in the House yesterday was a press report, which appeared in one of the evening papers, indicating that there had been some arrangement between the Premier and myself by which the Committee would not be called and I would be entitled to ask all the questions and discuss anything I liked in the House. Of course that matter was spoken to yesterday by the Premier and myself, showing conclusively there is no such arrangement. Such an arrangement would be foolish, because I could not keep it myself. If I agreed not to ask questions or create a disturbance in the House, I think I would be breaking it very soon, because I find it difficult to sit there very many days of the session without making some enquiry or some criticism of the Government. Let me say there was no saw-off of any kind between the Premier and myself. Then the matter came on for discussion yesterday, and the Premier says, "We will sit here just as long as there is anything to investigate." Well, now, that is all very well for the Premier to make such a statement as that, but days have gone by when we could have been discussing many of the matters which could very well have been brought before this Committee. The session has not been a long one. The members have not been overly worked, and there was ample time for this Committee to meet, and now the Premier endeavors to throw the onus on me, and says, "We will sit here and carry on an investigation in the Public Accounts Committee." Well, now, we are not going to sit here and carry on any such investigation.

THE CHAIRMAN: Don't you like our company?

MR. SINCLAIR: Because we have discharged our duty as members of the Legislature, the opportunity has gone by to have these investigations, and I know, speaking for myself, and I imagine very many other members have made arrangements to resume their own business again and get back into the work which is waiting for them. I know, personally speaking, it is practically impossible for me to stay here beyond this date, with the assizes going on at Whitby and other work piling up in my office. It is all very well to say we will sit here, so that we can show the public we are investigating the affairs of the country, while at the same time we have been here and have had ample time to make the investigation and have not done so. The usual Committee days are Wednesdays and Fridays. We could have had nine sessions of this Committee by the first day of April—Friday of this week—and to-day we are called together for the first time, and are called together because the question came up in the way in which it did yesterday on the floor of the House. The Premier knows we will function as a committee with great difficulty at the present time. He knows there is no opportunity to get witnesses here for a day or two, at any rate. He knows there is no opportunity to investigate documents such as one should be investigating if they are going to conduct a proper enquiry before a Public Accounts Committee, and no lawyer conducting such an enquiry desires to go into it without having the opportunity to first investigate the documents which will be necessarily the basis of the enquiry. And now the Committee is called to-day, and the Premier blames me because we meet to-day for the first time. I do feel that no blame whatever can be attached to me. I gave notice on the Order Paper, Sir, as I have already said. The Order Paper is in the hands of the Premier, as well as of other honourable members of the House. Everyone knew there was the demand for the calling of the Public Accounts Committee, and everyone knew that the Committee had not been called. The duty of calling these orders rests entirely, as I have said, with the Premier, who is leading the House. Sir, I desire to protest to-day before this Committee against the failure of the Premier to call this Committee before to-day. We have not had the opportunity this session of investigating many matters which I think would have been interesting and profitable to the Committee; and this will be the feature of the 1927 session of the Ontario Legislature—no meeting of the Public Accounts Committee until the forty-first day of the session. And so, considering the matter, I have placed the motion before this Committee, because there are many matters which I had intended after the Public Accounts came down to bring before the Public Accounts Committee for enquiry. To my mind the solution is the solution which I offer here to-day, that next year the Public Accounts now before us be open to the Committee of next year for investigation. Under the strict rules of the Committee, such a privilege is not allowed, because the Committee is, strictly speaking, limited to the Public Accounts for the year, but if this Committee says that owing to the lateness of the calling of the Public Accounts Committee, that next session the Public Accounts Committee may go into these accounts as well as the accounts of next year, then early next session the Public Accounts Committee may be called, and the work may begin at the very opening part of the session. Let me assure you, Sir, if I am spared to be here in health and strength to occupy my present position and represent my riding in the Legislature, I will be prepared at the very earliest day in the session to go on with this work and carry it on from day to day and from time to time throughout the session, so that we may have the benefit of the enquiry which has been denied to us this session, due to the lateness of calling this Committee. Therefore, Sir, I submit to this Committee the motion I have made, feeling it is in keeping with the wishes of the members of the Committee, who like myself have business engagements they must fill; who like myself must return home to their work, and like myself are anxious that the Public Accounts of this year should have some enquiry at the hands of this Committee.

HON. MR. FINLAYSON: Mr. Chairman, the leader of the Opposition, my friend Mr. Sinclair, has spoken for half an hour on this subject. I do not propose to take more than two or three minutes of the time of the Committee. I don't know whether the Committee will remember their Shakespeare and the old passage, "Methinks the lady doth protest too much," but it seems to me my friend Mr. Sinclair has covered up his laxity of the last three or four weeks by a half-hour address to the Committee. All I wish to say to the Committee is this: The Public Accounts are primarily the statement of the Government of the financial transactions of the year. They were brought down by the Treasurer, submitted on the 14th of January. The Treasurer's statement to the Governor shows they were submitted on the 14th of January.

MR. SINCLAIR: To the Cabinet?

HON. MR. FINLAYSON: No, to the Lieutenant-Governor. And the moment he made his Budget speech in the House these accounts were placed in the hands and on the desks of every Member of the Legislature. Now what is the effect of that? With the Government presenting the statement of the year to the House, the onus is cast upon the Opposition or anybody else who wishes to make an attack on it. Here is the statement of the money we have raised; the disposition we have made of money; do you wish to question it? And if you wish to question it, the Public Accounts Committee is the forum before which to do it. And my friend recognized that the day after the debate was closed in the House. He could have made the speech he made yesterday on the 8th of March, and if he had made that speech on the 8th of March he could have had the Committee called on the 9th of March, and we would have been down to business. But everybody knows the procedure is this: The Government present their accounts, submit them to the House, and they they are the property of the Opposition, and if the Opposition want to attack them here is the forum; and if they had asked for the meeting on the 8th of March they could have had a meeting on the 9th—but they asked on the 29th and got it on the 30th.

MR. SINCLAIR: Don't misstate it, Mr. Minister.

HON. MR. FINLAYSON: I have the instructions of the Prime Minister to tell the Committee this House has only been in session forty-one days—frequently we sit four or five months; in the days of our predecessors the sessions used to last from March to May or June. It can happen again if there is any occasion. It rests entirely in the hands of the Opposition, in the matter of the Public Accounts. If there is any item in the Public Accounts to be questioned, the onus and burden and responsibility is on the Opposition to question them. The Treasurer has done his duty fully. He presented the Accounts in January, and to the House in February, and if there had been the same speech made on the 8th of March as yesterday they could have called the Committee on the 9th. Members of the Committee who have been members for numbers of previous years know it is entirely in the hands of the Opposition to bring their motions; call for witnesses and documents and papers, and the Government will furnish them, and you can go on and investigate. This is the committee of the Opposition, and the Opposition have complete control of it, and have never been, in the days of the present Government, limited in any respect in the matter. So much for that. Now I have instructions of the Prime Minister to say to-day if the Committee want to proceed they can proceed this morning, this afternoon, to-night and every day and hour this week, if they want to, and all next week. All facilities of the Government are open to you, and you can have any assistance you like in getting all the documents. If on the other hand it is the pleasure of the Committee Mr. Sinclair's motion be passed and he slide this thing over to next year, we have no objection. If you want to postpone it to next session, do that.

THE CHAIRMAN: The resolution simply means take up two years in one—postpone a little excitement. Is it your pleasure that this—

MR. CURRIE: No, let us go according to Parliamentary usage. That is a very nice string to tie to the tail of the Tory kite for a year, and say they are going to be investigated next year. If you have any investigation do it now. That has always been the policy of the Public Accounts Committee, and they are not a postmortem, they deal with the book in front of them. It has to be a resolution of the House, if I mistake not, Mr. Chairman, to postpone action of this Committee. Anybody who knows the customs of the Committee knows it is very nice to slide out of it, and next summer shout all over the hustings, "We have got them, but we hadn't time to investigate them." There is plenty of time to do this investigating. Let us do it now and get rid of it. That is my advice to the Committee. It is a dirty rag tied to us, if you ask me, and I vote against the resolution.

MR. BELANGER: We have here a Minister of the Crown saying he has no particular objection to the motion, and it was a reasonable one. I have no objection, either, to one member of the Committee stating it is against the ordinary usage of the Committee, but what I do object to, and most strenuously, is to bring into this Committee what has happened for some days past in the House, imputing irregular motives to members of the Opposition and argue that our object in bringing this motion is purely and solely to tie a tail to the Conservative kite and to go boasting around the country that we have something against the Government and are going to make political capital out of it. I protest against that way of arguing, and I think there has been too much of that, both impugning the motives of Opposition members when they are doing their duty, and secondly, imputing other motives. I think that is below the dignity of members of the House, and certainly not compatible with the manner in which the Opposition and every member thereof are trying to discharge their duty to this Province. If the only argument Members have against this resolution is on their part a political one, and a petty political one, which is that they should fear that there should go round the country an impression we are trying to tie something to the Conservatives, I say that argument is not worth the consideration of this Committee nor members of the House, and we have had, I think, a little too much of that kind of thing, saying that we are trying to acquire publicity or political advantage, and all that. I dare say the members of the Opposition in the House are as much taken up with their public duty to the Province as any member on the government side of the House, and I think questions and motions, when they come up for consideration, should be considered on their prima facie merits, and not go behind to try to find improper motives on the part of movers and seconders and supporters of these resolutions.

MR. VAUGHAN: Mr. Chairman, much as I admire my friend to the left, it seems to me this Committee has met as a Public Accounts Committee. If I am out of order I hope you will correct me, but I thought the Public Accounts Committee, after we were organized and we were in session, if the Leader of the Opposition or any member of this Committee had some public accounts they desired to have investigated, they would lay them on this table; that would be the procedure, and then go ahead and do our business—not next year, right now. If there is anything wrong in this Government or anything that wants to be investigated, let us table it now here. I think the Leader of the Opposition was out of order in placing the resolution before you at the outset; that he should instead have placed a resolution saying he wanted such and such things investigated, after he placed a resolution in the House asking that this Committee meet. I feel we are not making progress, but endeavoring to get a little publicity for somebody, rather than facilitate the business of this Committee, and if there is no resolution for any investigation I move that this Committee adjourn.

HON. MR. FINLAYSON: I think Colonel Currie is technically perfectly correct. The business of the Committee is to investigate these accounts, and if you look over the records of the Committee for a good many years you will find rulings—I remember one the year Mr. Watson was chairman—that it was impossible to go behind the Accounts submitted; and in that way the point raised by Colonel Currie and Mr. Vaughan is perfectly correct. There is this further point, that probably we have no power to pass the resolution submitted and bind the Committee of next year in any way at all. They may sit down next year and say, “No, we won’t do that.” I suggested that to Mr. Sinclair, and the point occurred to the Chairman. I don’t think that resolution is within our power. The farthest we could go, perhaps, would be a recommendation from this Committee to the House, that this Committee sitting next year might have authority to take the accounts of this year. Then it would be for the House to take action on that if they wished to do so. But speaking for the Government, I want to make this perfectly clear: that the Government do not want to be technical. The Government do not want to hide behind any technical rule. The Government want to say, the House has been in session only forty-one days; there are the Accounts, there is no reason it should not sit sixty days or dispose of this by sitting this afternoon or night and to-morrow and Saturday, if necessary, to wind up this week, and no reason we should not devote next week to it, and bring witnesses from the uttermost parts of Ontario, if necessary, at this session. However, speaking for the Government, I do not want to press—if the Committee think we should make a recommendation of that kind to the House, I think it is within the jurisdiction to do that. I do not think we have any power to bind either the House or the Committee of next year. The point Colonel Currie raises is perfectly logical and well-founded, but if Mr. Sinclair wishes to put it in the form of a recommendation to the House, I won’t raise any objection, because the Government are not going to take the position we are hiding behind any technicality.

MR. HONEYWELL: Referring to the statement made by the member for Russell, and the statement made by Mr. Currie, Mr. Belanger has repudiated the idea this is going to be used for propaganda. I understand the press is represented here to-day. Might I ask the member for Russell what report will go out in the press as a result of this meeting. The headline will be the Leader of the Opposition has stated before the Committee he had certain things to bring up as a result of this statement by the Government, showing, to say the least, improper handling of the funds of this Province.

HON. MR. FINLAYSON: There would be no suggestion of that.

MR. HONEYWELL: And the suggestion has been blocked by the Prime Minister not calling this Committee sooner. We all know, as the Minister has stated, that this is a Committee of the Opposition, to give them an opportunity of bringing before this Committee certain questions they are entitled to lay. They are the plaintiffs; it is for them to lay their case and bring it on. It is true the notice of motion was made by the Leader of the Opposition, but I understand he has never up to yesterday asked for a return to that motion. If this Committee authorizes this adjournment, it is clear there is something threatening the Government for a whole year, and the aspersion has been raised by the Leader of the Opposition and will go out in the press. The member for Russell cannot say it will not be used for propaganda.

MR. SINCLAIR: I would like to ask the member what the press will say if I say I cannot go on and the Government says, “You must go on,” although this is the forty-first day of the session.

MR. HONEYWELL: We are not afraid of what the press will say, in view of the fact the Leader of the Opposition never asked for a return of the motion.

MR. SINCLAIR: It stands on the Proceedings of the House, and is there to-day, although it was moved yesterday.

MR. PINARD: I believe the argument that the Leader of the Opposition did not ask for his motion to be brought before the House is no argument whatever. I remember when I had a motion standing on the order paper, and it was called at two o'clock in the morning of the last night. It was not popular with the Government at that time; it was about 2 per cent. beer being changed to six.

MR. MEWHINNEY: It has been said by the honourable Minister representing the Government, and also some other members, that this is a Committee of the Opposition. Now, in looking around this Committee as it stands, I think possibly it is a Committee of the Government as well. I want to be fair. I have been on the Public Accounts Committee and other Committees in the House, and I believe, as far as I am able to see or hear at the present time there is a tendency to inject some political feeling into this Committee, which I think is absolutely unfair. Although the most of the Committees have a majority of Government supporters, yet in every case matters that came before it, whether private bills, game and fish, or anything else, matters were discussed openly and properly, without any partisan feeling at all, and I am sorry at this particular time that this has been injected. Now, the honourable Minister has said that the onus was on the leader, Mr. Sinclair, on account of his laxity in the House. I think that is an unfair statement to bring before this Committee, or even the press some members seem to be afraid of. I don't think any member of this Committee or member of the Legislature can charge Mr. Sinclair in being lax in his duty as Leader of the Opposition or as representative of his constituency in the House. Mr. Finlayson has also said, "No hurry; we can bring this up to-day, to-morrow, or next week or month, we are very willing to stay." Let me call attention to the attendance in the House last night. Members believe the work is practically done, and you can notice they are not paying possibly as strict attention to the work as two or three or four weeks ago. I know myself I am beginning to feel the call of the wild. I feel that it is time I was migrating northward, too. We are not situated like my learned friend, Colonel Currie, and some other gentlemen. Possibly it does not make so much difference to them whether they stay in Toronto another month or so. I want to confess I like the surroundings, but my occupation calls for me at this particular time of year, to go home and look after it, and I do not think it is fair to stay here, we can sit here another week or month and go on with this. I think with Mr. Sinclair his intentions were honest and fair, and he has asked for nothing that should not be granted. I was surprised at my good friend Colonel Currie's suggestion that it was the intention of Mr. Sinclair to tie a dirty rag or red kite to the tail of the Tory Party for a whole year. Now you know we in the House, as Opposition members, as Liberal members, have tried to help the great Tory Party, and I have no hesitation in saying I think they would be in worse light in the eyes of the public at the present time if we had not assisted them in the way we did; and even the press, they may be here for the purpose of getting a story, putting out literature that is not to the liking of some members, but I want to say for them, I think they have been mighty fair in sending out press reports of the Committees and of the House. I believe again that while it is claimed that this motion is out of order and the Committee cannot consider this matter next year, I believe the Committee could consider it, and if the motion were let go or passed here in this Committee it would be up to the Government and Prime Minister, and personally I feel that the Prime Minister would allow this investigation, and for that reason I would like to see the motion carried.

MR. CURRIE: I have no desire to impose on the Committee, but I don't know whether gentlemen here know what I know, that down town, in the hotels all kinds of talk is going on, that at least two ministers of this Government are in their hand and they can do anything they want to them at any time. Now is the time to say so or quit. This idea of hanging it over the heads of everybody here and every place you go you will be challenged with it, "wait till Sinclair gets at you next session," is an unfair proposition. I never heard such an unfair proposition put up at a Public Accounts Committee in my life, and I have been at many. If Mr. Sinclair or anybody has anything, for God's sake bring it down and call for the papers and witnesses this morning and get it done. If not, say they haven't got anything. I quite concede Mr. Finlayson's point, because he doesn't want the idea to go forth that the Government doesn't challenge investigation, but whether the Government wants investigation or not I claim we have to deal the same way, according to the old usages of this Committee, with every case that comes up. This is an unheard of idea, postponing it and throwing the door wide open. Next thing you know they will be wanting to investigate things that happened twenty years ago. The rule of the Committee is that it is this year's Public Accounts to be read and discussed here this session. They had lots of time to get their investigators out and they haven't found anything. Now he is trying to crawl, that is the whole story in a nutshell, and I propose to vote against the motion, I don't care what amendment there is. Let us have the vote and go on. If there is any fire where they claim there is smoke the thing could have been gone with months ago. If I were leading the Opposition I would have set a bonfire long ago if half what they claim is true.

MR. SINCLAIR: What is it you get around the hotels?

MR. CURRIE: The rumours you are going to trim two or three Ministers in the Public Accounts Committee. Now go on with the evidence.

MR. SINCLAIR: We are speaking here as members of a Committee, and our speeches will be read after the session is over. I am satisfied to have the public read Colonel Currie's speech and to read mine. I am not going to enter into a controversy or personal remarks, but I do believe the motion I have made is in the best interests of all concerned, and at the suggestion of the Honourable Minister of Lands and Forests I am quite prepared to turn this into a recommendation to the House, to meet the objection honourable members have made here that the Committee has no power to bind the Committee of a subsequent year. So that I have inserted in the motion and if you wish me to read it again I will read the whole motion:

"That notwithstanding the rules of this Committee and the Legislature, and in view of that fact that the Public Accounts Committee is meeting to-day for the first time at this Session of the Legislature, and that it is now well understood that the House will conclude its work this week, all business being practically completed, this Committee recommends to the House that the Public Accounts of 1925-26 be referred to the Public Accounts Committee of 1928 with full authority to investigate any item therein at said Session of 1928 as fully as if said item appeared in the Public Accounts for 1926-27."

Now, Mr. Chairman, that is simply a recommendation from this Committee to the House that at next Session of this Legislature, when the Public Accounts Committee meets, the Public Accounts Committee may enquire into any item in the accounts of 1925 and 1926 if they wish to do so. I do submit, and I do not wish to repeat what I say, but if Colonel Currie were a lawyer he would know how impossible it is at this time to get the Committee functioning; how impossible it is to get your evidence in shape, to get your witnesses here and investigate your documents, and on top of it all absolutely impossible for one who for some weeks back has been making preparations for my own business at the first of April. It has been understood for three or four weeks that this House would get through about the first of April, subject to the length of time which it might take in the House to discuss the Government Control legislation, and that passed away without too long a time being spent, and then it was quite apparent to anyone that the whole work of the session was over. And so, Sir, I do feel that this Committee is doing itself no harm, the Tory Party is not going to suffer anything by a motion such as this; it won't suffer half as much as if they reject this motion in Committee and bar this thing up for all time to come because the thing has not been called until the end of the session.

HON. MR. FINLAYSON: I want to make one thing perfectly clear. The Government are not going to be put in a position of letting anyone say or suggest that this Committee has not been called deliberately, nor are we going to allow a report to go out that an attempt has been made, even if the Leader of the Opposition has been negligent, to take advantage of it and shirk responsibility. The accounts have been down since January, and in the hands of the House nearly two months. The duty and onus and responsibility of attacking the Government is on the Opposition. This is primarily and essentially an Opposition Committee. In the Imperial House—Colonel Currie will bear me out—the procedure of the Public Accounts Committee is all in the hands of the Opposition. They even go so far there as to elect the chairman, because it is an enquiry. Our practice has been the same; we want it to be an enquiry, the body or forum that decides whether the accounts are proper. The Government are not going to be in the position of even appearing to shirk the responsibility. There are one or two things I will suggest to my friend, which if he will put it in this form I will agree to it. Strike out all this preamble about it being well understood the work is finished. The work of the Legislature is under way and the Legislature is prepared to sit and complete its work, no matter how long it takes. If you will put it this way: "That this Committee recommends to the House that the Public Accounts of 1925-6 be referred to the Public Accounts Committee of 1928, with full authority to investigate any item therein as fully as if the item had appeared in the Accounts of 1926-7." I am stating the attitude of the Government to the Committee. If the Committee want to over-ride that, I am not going to quarrel, but if I am giving any lead to Government members of this Committee I want to say this: We are absolutely not going to be put in the position of even appearing to shirk the duty on the Government. There are the Treasurer's Accounts. The Treasurer is here to justify them, and all the facilities of the Government are available to this Committee, to-day or to-morrow or continuously, but we are not going to be in the position of having anybody say we are shirking anything. If my friend will strike out all the preliminaries—

MR. SINCLAIR: Cannot somebody move an amendment?

HON. MR. FINLAYSON: No, it is your motion.

MR. SINCLAIR: What are you going to do with what you got?

HON. MR. FINLAYSON: If the members of the Committee will pardon me a minute, I am satisfied these Accounts, as far as the Government are concerned, shall go over to next year, but I am not satisfied there shall be all this preamble which infers negligence on the part of the Government. This is the Opposition's Committee, and if the Opposition say, "We are not ready to go on at this session, unfortunately, whether we are to blame or you are to blame; we want it to go over," and it comes as a request from the Opposition it should go over, the Government will consent—at least I will consent to this Committee that there should be a recommendation to the House, because we have no power to bind next year's Committee.

MR. CURRIE: The report going to the House as a recommendation, if carried by the House will have the full effect of a resolution binding on the House. What is the use of sending a recommendation to the House? Everything sent to the House is a recommendation, and then if the House adopts it it has the full force of law, and they have gained everything they want. You want to be fair to the public and all that sort of thing, but I say we want to go according to the rule, because when they are in office they want to stick to the rule mighty tight. I have been at their committees before, and I know just how you get handled.

HON. MR. FINLAYSON: There is this to be said: the rule, when we were in Opposition, was laid down deliberately and strictly by Mr. Watson, sitting as chairman: "You cannot go behind the Accounts." But this Government are not going to take that position. As far as this item is concerned at present, if Mr. Sinclair will strike out this preamble, which suggests delay and is not correct, and say, "As Leader of the Opposition I request an adjournment," I am not going to advise the Committee to vote against it. The request for postponement of the hearing to next year has got to come by the Opposition, and without reflection on the Government.

MR. CURRIE: When next year comes, if Mr. Sinclair stands up in his place and states he thinks the previous year's Accounts should be gone into, there is no reason the House should not give me that permission, but to prejudice every Conservative member in the House with a resolution of that kind is going farther than I have ever seen in the House of Commons or any other place, and I protest. I appreciate Mr. Finlayson's position; he does not want to appear to avoid any investigation, and I don't, either, but if they have anything let them bring it in, and we will see if we cannot settle it, and if not, the House can adjourn a couple of weeks until such time as the Committee gets over with its business, and then come back and receive a report; but to go to work and hang on—if that system of parliamentary government is going to obtain you are going to come up against the next session with a series of resolutions hanging over this party. We had the story here of legals, and nothing in it but two liars. You would think everybody in the whole party got a legal or two—I wish they had. If the Leader of the Opposition is too lazy to get his stuff off, let him take the blame and not us. I move that the Committee adjourn.

THE CHAIRMAN: I think every member understands the situation entirely. It is purely a matter for the Committee. As has been stated, this Committee cannot bind next year's Committee. I believe Mr. Sinclair and the Honourable Minister of Forests have amended this so as to make it a suggestion to the House that this be allowed. Now it is for the Committee to vote on it, and when I get the amendment I will read it to you and you vote on it as you wish.

MR. GRAVES: What is the difference whether we send this on to the House or vote here? Pretty nearly every member of the House is a member of the Committee. Are we pushing it some other place to relieve ourselves of a duty, or what?

THE CHAIRMAN: This Committee has no power to pass a resolution committing the Committee of next year. The personnel of the Committee next year may be altogether different.

MR. GRAVES: A recommendation to the House is practically the same as carried.

MR. BRADBURN: If next year's Committee refuse to carry this motion and investigate these back Accounts, what position are we in then?

THE CHAIRMAN: If they refuse, I guess they won't do it.

MR. VAUGHAN: I thought I made it perfectly clear at the outset that the resolution was not in order. Some person here says it is in order to report a resolution back to the House. This Legislature appointed this Public Accounts Committee to function, and we are here to function this morning. We have heard nothing but resolutions about what is going to happen a year from to-day. As a member of the Public Accounts Committee, I maintain this is all out of order. If the Leader of the Opposition has got some complaint, he should table it here this morning and we should know it. We have a right as members to have it, or else adjourn.

THE CHAIRMAN: You have heard what the Minister, Hon. Mr. Finlayson, said, and I have this other motion here, and he is agreeable to it, and I am not going to take the responsibility of ruling it out of order. I will read the amended motion:

"This Committee recommends to the House that the Public Accounts for 1925-6 be referred to the Public Accounts Committee of 1928 with full authority to investigate any item therein at said session of 1928 as fully as if said item appeared in the Public Accounts of 1926-7."

I rule that I am going to accept this motion.

MR. CURRIE: What right have we to investigate the Accounts of last Parliament—1925? You cannot go back.

MR. SINCLAIR: It is impossible for some members to understand things, but the Accounts we are now investigating are the Accounts of 1925-6.

MR. MACAULAY: My suggestion is: the Leader of the Opposition has been sniffing around for two months—

MR. SINCLAIR: Now, Mr. Chairman, the honourable member is a member of the legal profession, and knows when language is parliamentary or not. I have stood a good deal from Colonel Currie; he has a license to talk, but I ask an honourable member of an honourable profession to conduct a debate in a parliamentary manner.

MR. MACAULAY: What I had in mind is this: the honourable Leader of the Opposition has been asking questions and gained information, and has items in his mind, no doubt. He is asking us to investigate these Accounts when we are assembled next year. I for one am willing, if he will tell us what items he has in mind, and wants to hold over, he will be letting in a little light on the situation. But if he has sat by for two months and now is not able to say even what item he wants to investigate, why should we help him out of his hole.

MR. SINCLAIR: I object, Mr. Chairman. Some young men have not yet learned the fine practice of being gentlemanly in a heated argument.

HON. MR. FINLAYSON: Before the Chairman puts the motion—

MR. CURRIE: I think we should leave the Committee to judge.

HON. MR. FINLAYSON: I only want to say this one thing to the Committee: the Government are in the end responsible for the Public Accounts. They are the one thing they are particularly responsible for, and the Treasurer is particularly responsible for, and I don't want to press the Committee one way or the other. Perhaps something might come out of Mr. Macaulay's suggestion. I see my friend, Mr. Sinclair, has a bunch of resolutions there, apparently covering the different matters he thinks proper for investigation. If he will formally move these and let them stand over to next year, we will at least have notice of something we are going ahead with, and know to a certain extent where we are at. I gather a number of members think it is improper that there should be a number of suggestions left in a very vague way. Recalling what Mr. Belanger said I think he said there wasn't anything of that kind, but if that is true surely Mr. Sinclair can say, "Here are the matters I propose to have investigated; have them ready for the first meeting of next year's Committee." If you will submit those resolutions you have ready there will at least be notice, and no minister or member of the Government will be able to say they are embarrassed for eight or ten months by vague charges.

MR. SINCLAIR: In regard to what the honourable Minister says, while it has some merit it has a great deal of demerit, because if I move resolutions here—and I have seven, and have had for several days, prepared for this Committee whenever it should be called—if I move these resolutions and they went on the order paper here and into the press, all these men's names would be bandied about for the next ten months, and suspicion cast upon them, and I have too high a sense for the reputation of anybody to have their names bandied around this Province for ten months, that something will come up at the next meeting of the Public Accounts affecting them. So I would say I cannot accede to the request of the honourable Minister and my honourable friend, Mr. Macaulay, to give the Committee the resolutions which I have here and have had prepared for several days in my office.

THE CHAIRMAN: Would there be any objection, Mr. Sinclair, to filing with the Treasurer.

MR. SINCLAIR: I won't file them with anybody.

MR. GRAVES: Why not adjourn this Committee, and depend upon the honour and integrity of the Committee next year to go into this thing at the request of the Opposition. We do not want to put the onus on the Opposition Leader or the Government. Through some error—and I blame no one—this Committee has not met up to this hour. Let us adjourn to-day because there is no evidence, and if the Committee of next year feel there is anything worth while, let us go at it then.

MR. CURRIE: After listening to Mr. Sinclair's statement, that he has seven resolutions to go on with, and is ready to go on with, if we adjourn we cast a stigma on this Committee, there is no doubt in my mind, because I have sat on many committees of this kind, when we had a real investigation, and after listening to him say he has seven resolutions to go on with, the Committee would be justified in calling his bluff and saying, "Go on."

MR. SINCLAIR: Mr. Chairman, the honourable Member is out of order.

THE CHAIRMAN: Gentlemen, let us keep within some reasonable bounds of parliamentary language.

MR. CURRIE: That is parliamentary.

THE CHAIRMAN: Bluff?

MR. CURRIE: Yes, because we have had a ruling on that.

THE CHAIRMAN: If necessary, I would give another ruling, but I won't.

MR. IRELAND: I always think Mr. Sinclair is fair, but don't you think the same stigma applies to your statement in the House yesterday as to your resolutions?

MR. SINCLAIR: Oh, I don't think so.

MR. IRELAND: In regards to Mr. Squire?

MR. SINCLAIR: There is a motion on the order paper regarding him.

MR. IRELAND: That is hardly fair to him, to let it stand over another year. I know my plowing is not ready to go on with, and up in my friend's country the snow is still on the ground. Down our way it is too wet to plow. I don't see any great rush for a while to get back to the farms. Why not clean house as we go along and get this thing cleaned up? Anyway, we have not worked so very hard this session, to earn our increased indemnity. We don't have to get home for any particular reason this week-end. If we want to adjourn for two weeks I don't think the Prime Minister would object to coming back to finish up. Public Accounts are very important to the Government. Every picnic in every riding, they will be telling about what is going to happen in Public Accounts next year.

MR. MEWHINNEY: Absolutely.

MR. IRELAND: You bet they will be, and as a member of this Committee, I am not going to let you get away with it.

MR. SINCLAIR: If this Committee meets a month, how are you going to get your Government Control Bill in force?

MR. IRELAND: We will have the machinery in ready, and all it needs is the stock, and there is no doubt about it going through, and maybe before we get away somebody might have a chance to buy something. But I don't see why there is any rush. Suspicion is worse—having this laid on the door-steps of anybody is worse than actual guilt because that can be cleaned up and got rid of. If some departments are not being carried on strictly for the good of this Province it should be cleared up at the present time, and not allowed to go on for another year. A great many members of the Opposition, I think, agree with that.

MR. THOMPSON (Lanark): Whether the fault of any person in particular or not, the Public Accounts Committee has not been called together until this late date, and I do not think it would be well that the impression should go abroad that there was anything to hide in these Public Accounts. There is nothing. I am satisfied that the Committee sit here and make all necessary investigation, but if the Committee decide to do otherwise I don't think the impression should go out that the right to investigate was in any way hampered. I don't think it should be so. This Committee and this House are not afraid of any investigation that may be made, and the liberty of making that investigation should not be closed off, whether that investigation comes on at the present sitting or whether postponed to some future date.

HON. MR. FINLAYSON: I think the Committee have expressed themselves very properly, and we have got two or three things settled. There seems a consensus of opinion there is an opportunity now, and that the Opposition should be given that opportunity to proceed if they wish. Then there is another view expressed, that it is unfair—in which Mr. Sinclair seems to concur—that it is unfair the names of certain people be mentioned, and that should be left over. Would this answer the purpose—and if the Committee approve I will submit an amendment, that the Committee express its willingness now to proceed with the investigation of any items in the Public Accounts before it;

A MEMBER: Carried.

HON. MR. FINLAYSON: —and further, if the Opposition Leader or any other member wishes items to go over to next year, this Committee is willing to take the position of being without prejudice, but allow that item to be presented next year without any ruling or recommendation. By way of amendment I wish to move this:

“That the Public Accounts Committee do now proceed to consider any questions or items that are to be investigated, and devote whatever time is necessary to any items any member wishes to bring before it; but without prejudice to the action of next year's Committee, the Committee are willing that next year's Committee should consider any matters that may be brought before them next year.”

In the first place, I suggest that to Mr. Sinclair as a reasonable way out of his difficulty. If he is satisfied, I will consent to that going through.

MR. CURRIE: Let the Minister divide his resolution, and we will put the first part, and it will carry, and then we will discuss the second part.

HON. MR. FINLAYSON: This particular Minister would like to be able to run his own motion. I suggest to Mr. Sinclair that is a reasonable way out, and if he will adopt the resolution I will be glad to second it; otherwise I will submit it by way of amendment to his motion. The Committee are now assembled and prepared to devote whatever time is necessary to any item of the Accounts that may come before it, but if anybody is unable or unwilling at this session to proceed with it, the Committee are willing to leave the matter open for discussion by next year's Committee.

MR. NESBITT: I was going to say that the members and public will know that the Leader of the Opposition has given out to this Committee that he has seven resolutions, and the public for one year will be under the impression the Leader of the Opposition has seven direct, specific charges which he wants to investigate. That is a cloud that will shadow this Government for the next year. No one wants to take advantage of the Leader of the Opposition, and the impression is given by the Honourable Mr. Finlayson that we are in no hurry; why don't we sit and take some day next week, when the Committee meet again, and give the Leader of the Opposition one whole week in which to get his evidence together and subpoena his witnesses, and give him every fair consideration, and let us clean up this year what belongs to this year. That is surely fair.

HON. MR. FINLAYSON: That would involve holding the House there, and we have no power to hold the House there, and there is a general disposition to wind up business this week. I think that is being contemplated.

MR. NESBITT: The House does not prorogue this week, does it?

HON. MR. FINLAYSON: I am not saying; I understood that was one of the possibilities. The country members are in a very different position, and anxious to get away.

MR. NESBITT: Quite true, Mr. Minister, but as a follower of this Government, I do not intend to let the public believe for one year there are seven specific charges and not investigated.

HON. MR. FINLAYSON: Perhaps you did not follow the resolution. It is that the Committee are now in session and prepared to consider any items brought before them, and prepared to devote as much time as necessary for that purpose, to clean up and dispose of all business, but if any member feels that he wishes to get away and does not want to bring it on this time, we are going to leave it to next year's Committee to decide whether they will hear other items or not.

A MEMBER: Isn't the last part of your resolution rather negative? How are we going to leave it over to another Committee to discharge?

HON. MR. FINLAYSON: Without prejudice; we are not deciding one way or another.

MR. SINCLAIR: I understood from the honourable Minister that if I changed my motion to delete what might be considered slightly objectionable, that would meet the suggestion—a recommendation to the House. Now there is really no recommendation in the amendment. The second part of the resolution is simply stating, as I take it, that next year's Committee can take it up if they wish. Now they cannot do that without a resolution.

HON. MR. FINLAYSON: No, you will be in this much better position; you will have laid the foundation, and it will be said this was discussed last year and laid over. Speaking for the Government, we are satisfied with Mr. Sinclair's motion. We don't care whether you investigate it now or ten years from now, but the Committee have rights, and have expressed their views, and I am trying to meet your wishes as far as possible, and make it clear we are willing to go ahead now and sit as long as you wish; but if you do not want to do that we are willing to leave it over to next year's Committee if they think proper to do so.

MR. SINCLAIR: I cannot accept that as the main motion.

THE CHAIRMAN: If Mr. Sinclair does not accept it, I have to put this amendment of Mr. Finlayson's first—the amendment to the motion:—

“That the Public Accounts Committee are now prepared to consider and hear evidence on any matter in the Public Accounts of 1926, and devote such time as may be necessary to consideration of all such matters; and as to any matters which the Leader of the Opposition or any other member of the Committee wish to postpone to the 1928 Committee, the Committee leave such matters or items to the determination of the Committee of 1928.”

HON. MR. FINLAYSON: The Committee will see the embarrassing position I am in; that the Government does not want to appear to be shirking anything, even four or five years, but there has been a pretty unanimous expression by the Committee and I am suggesting Mr. Sinclair adopt this motion. I think it will answer his purpose.

MR. SINCLAIR: I may have to adopt it.

HON. MR. FINLAYSON: No, you don't. “That the Public Accounts Committee do now proceed to consider any questions or items that are to be investigated, and devote whatever time is necessary to any items any member wishes to bring before it; but without prejudice to the action of next year's Committee the Committee are willing that next year's Committee should consider any matters that may be brought before them next year.” It simply has this effect, that we express our willingness to sit to-day, to-morrow or any day until we clean the matter up, and after that the Committee of next year can decide whether they will clean it up. We are not binding our successors in any way.

MR. SINCLAIR: I think the best way is to make it an amendment to my motion.

MR. FINLAYSON: I move in amendment to the motion submitted by Mr. Sinclair the amendment I have just read, seconded by Mr. Bradburn.

THE CHAIRMAN: You have heard this amendment. Mr. Sinclair has a motion, and Mr. Finlayson moves, seconded by Mr. Bradburn, the amendment you have just heard. All in favour of the amendment, as proposed by Mr. Finlayson, will hold up their hands.

THE SECRETARY announced the vote as 30 to 12.

THE CHAIRMAN: I declare the amendment carried. Any further business, gentlemen?

MR. CURRIE: It is up to Mr. Sinclair to say if he wishes to go on.

MR. SINCLAIR: Mr. Chairman, in view of the vote which the Committee has taken, and in view of what I said, that it was absolutely impossible for me to conduct an examination next week, due to business arrangements which I made weeks ago, I am obliged to rest my case with the Committee and present these matters at the next session of the Legislature, and rely on the generosity of the next session of the Legislature to call the Public Accounts earlier, and have that Committee deal with the Public Accounts we would deal with at this session if we had been sitting earlier in the session.

MR. BRADBURN: We are not going to limit the honourable member to next week. He can have the week after, or the week after that, if he wanted.

THE CHAIRMAN: If no further business, we will receive a motion to adjourn.

MR. THOMPSON (Lanark): I move the Committee adjourn.

THE CHAIRMAN: Carried.
